Jordan Times

An independent Arab political daily published by the Jordan Press Foundation جوردان تايمز يوميَّة سياسية تصدر بالإنجليزية عن المؤسسة الصحفية الأردنية والراي،

Price: Jordan 100 fils; Syria 1 pound; Lebanon 1 pound; Saudi Arabia 1.50 riyals; UAE 1.50 dirhams; Great Britain 25 pence

His Majesty King Hussein Thursday confers with Norwegian Foreign Minister Thorvald Stoltenberg in Aqaba (Petra photo)

Stoltenberg ends visit after Aqaba audience

AMMAN (J.T.) - Norwegian Foreign Minister Thorvald Stoltenberg left Amman Friday for Cairo at the end of a three-day visit to Jordan during which he was received in audience by His Majesty King Hussein in Aqaba.

Volume 14 Number 3996

ection (A) ilding the
from a

out of the capt

ony was no oph Velle bed at a p

door to be considered to the constant of the c

Ork

Sarah Fee

a bican

iff north

o Coanda

me the de

Tabloid

eness" ¿

tor what

holdau:

- Ara

Ոշ բահել

U 21015/E

4 foral 5

Pottom -

of ah war a

han ballio.

านรถชาติ -

ther fig

Bucket

Andre

icef. 42

other are

stah gaseb

J is Aug

0.0990000

in the Val

.:ે ખૂ

ud test≛.

ರ್ಷ- ಚಾ

: P#11 - -

Unio Mati

(0.0 a)

230 E3

....

Lots L 2

A 36 30

urns

The Cal

mose these

2. 44

N 00 188

turned LC

CHES. NO

inch the s uch er

man-al.

neme offer

a but sold

a Popular

.n ioi 🖮

لالده 17:

3hting#

nd beel

٠,٠٠٠ ٠٠٠٠

Tourse k

in leelandi

ican (X

ne le com-

is States

eriands. St

ing Such ·ciand. W

11.50

in contract

and last

Manch !

منشلال عالم

1

gets

re mai

histis

i his teadl

icidally life,

it wom it

refighter.

en ven

nel Cum

as had 10 s

ikeri o

nplated

ine

The Jordan News Agency, Petra, said that the King and Stoltenberg reviewed the European role in promoting the Middle East peace process and the European stand with regard to the Palestine Liberation Organisation (PLO).

During the meeting, King Hussein stressed the importance of the European role in convening an international conference to resolve the Palestinian issue in all its aspects, now that the PLO has presented its genuine orientation towards a just and comprehensive solution. Petra said.

The agency quoted the Norwegian minister as paying tribute to King Hussein's efforts at all levels to reach security and peace in the region through an international conference.

The minister also referred to the very good relations between Jordan and Norway based on friendship and mutual coopera-

The meeting in Aqaba was attended by Prime Minister Zaid Rifai, Royal Court Chief Field Marshal Sharif Zaid Ibn Shaker, the King's special advisor Amer

Khammash and Deputy Prime Minister and Foreign Minister

Marwan Al Qasem. Following a three-day stay in Cairo, the Norwegian minister is due to fly on to Tunis for a meeting with PLO Chairman Yasser Arafat.

In addition to Stoltenberg. politicians from Denmark and Sweden visit Tunis this weekend for talks with the PLO, highlighting the Scandinavian role in Middle East peace politics.

The three countries, together with Finland, have emerged as key figures in international efforts to draw Israel into a dialogue with the PLO.

Svend Auken, leader of Denmark's opposition Social Democratic Party, was due Friday afternoon and expected to see Arafat, a Danish embassy spokesman

Arafat will also have talks with two prominent members of Sweden's ruling Social Democratic Party, Scandinavian diplomats

The Swedish politicians are Evert Svensson, who chairs a and has had a longstanding in terest in the Middle East, and Karl-Erik Svartberg, president of Sweden's United Nations Asso-

LAST-MINUTE NEWS

Bush: Too soon for top-level PLO contact

WASHINGTON (AP) - President George Bush said Friday that the United States was only beginning its relations with the Palestine Liberation Organisation (PLO) and that it was too soon to say when a top member of his administration would meet with PLO Chairman Yasser Arafat. He said the United States would continue to have a dialogue with the organisation "as long as they stay booked and stay committed" to principles aimed at negotiating peace with Israel. "I baven't given any thought at all" to a when a meeting should be held between Arafat and a top-level U.S. official, Bush told a White House

Iraq proclaims new amnesty for Kurds

ANKARA (AP) - Turkey's Foreign Ministry announced Friday that Iraq has proclaimed a new amnesty for the Kurdish refugees who fled to Turkey in August. The announcement said Iraq declared a new amnesty at the urging of Turkey because there were Kurdish refugees who wanted to return to their homeland. The new amnesty will remain in effect until the end of February, the announcement said. Iraq declared an amnesty soon after 60,000 Kurds crossed the joint border into Turkey. The deadline for the first amnesty was Oct. 6.

Reagan, Bush could be forced to testify

WASHINGTON (R) - The judge in the Iran-contra criminal case said Friday that he has the legal power to force President Bush and former President Reagan to testify at the trial of ex-White House aide duplice another Oliver North. But the judge put off any decision on whether to throw out the defence subpoenas, which have been challenged by government lawyers as unprecedented. They argued that Reagan and Bush enjoy executive privilege and cannot be forced to testify. "As far as the three lines power of the court to require testimony of Reagan or Bush, I do not think there is any question," Federal Judge Gerhard Gesell ruled from the bench. "I have no doubt of the naked power if I have to use

Taba talks end with no progress

TEL AVIV (R) - Israeli-Egyptian talks on the handover of the Red Sea beach of Taba ended without progress Friday as Israel awaited anxiously a planned Cairo declaration on the future of the resort Sunday. Chief Israeli negotiator Reuven Merhav and his Egyptian counterpart Nabil Al Arabi failed even to agree on a date to resume talks, Israeli officials said. Merhav, director-general of Israel's foreign ministry, said he was still waiting to see the text of a planned Cairo decree to extend Egyptian tourist law over a luxury hotel and a holiday village in the 700-metre beachfront.

Israel told it can use Moscow embassy

TEL AVIV (R) — The Soviet Union has told Israel its consular mission may use the former Israeli embassy building in Moscow, empty since the Kremlin severed ties with the Zionist state in 1067 was days said Friday. But the Soviet Foreign Ministry told the senior Israeli diplomat in Moscow, Aryeh Levin, the move did not constitute a mount of the status of the consular delegation, which remained under

nder ges Sinhalese militants kill 47 in 2 days

COLOMBO (AP) - Sinhalese militants shot and killed three people in separate attacks in Sri Lanka, raising the number of deaths blamed on the radicals in the past two days to 47, police said Friday. One of the that National Party. Alarmed by the increased violence, the government has placed troops on alert across the island nation since Thursday, said officials.

King optimistic of convening summit

AMMAN (Petra) — Consultations and contacts between Arab leaders are under way to hold an Arab summit conference, since there are good reasons for convening such a meeting soon, His Majesty King Hussein said Thursday.

AMMAN SATURDAY JANUARY 28, 1989, JUMADA AL AQIRA 20, 1409

"I am confident that the current contacts will result in such a meeting among Arab leaders and I have big hopes that such a meeting will be held soon," King Hussein said in statements to reporters shortly before leaving Cairo for home at the end of talks with President Hosni Mubarak.

"We are optimistic and we continue to work hand in hand to serve the higher Arab interests," the King said. The visit to Cairo, he said, offered him a chance to discuss and review different developments in the Arab region" and now stand together confident of the future and hope to carry out our duty as we best as we

Asked what he expects from the new Bush administration in that fruitful contacts with Bush was attended at a later stage by administration were bound to prime ministers Zaid Rifai and take place.

He said that the world was now witnessing a change and there was a clear orientation towards resolving outstanding issues so that world peace and stability can be achieved. The King said Europe was adopting a very positive and constructive stand which would promote the peace process.

Speaking to reporters before the King's departure, President Mubarak said coordination was continuing on all matters of concern to the Arab Nation in general and Egypt and Jordan in par-

Mubarak said Jordan, Egypt, Iraq and North Yemen were embarking on plans that could lead to the formation of a united economic bloc. The plan, he said, is not directed against any other Arab state and it is open for all Arab countries to join in.

King Hussein earlier held a meeting with the Egyptian presi-Washington, King Hussein said

Atef Sidki and other officials. The two prime ministers held senarate talks in the presence of Jordanian and Egyptian ministers and top officials to review measures to enhance bilateral coop-

Call from Bush

While in Cairo, King Hussein received a telephone call from U.S. President George Bush, who thanked the King for his congratulatory cable on his taking

Bush said he was looking forwrd to fruitful cooperation with the King to achieve a just and durable solution for the Middle East problem.

Before going to Cairo King Hussein visited Saudi Arabia and held talks with King Fahd Ibn Abdul Aziz.

King Hussein and the Jorda-nian delegation arrived in Aqaba and were received by Their Royal Highnesses Prince Abdullah and dent at Al Qubbah Palace which Prince Faisal and senior officials.

8 Palestinians wounded in W. Bank, Gaza protests

JERUSALEM and wounded eight Palestinians Friday during protests in the occupied West Bank and Gaza

Villagers at Salfit near the West Bank city of Nablus set fire similar raids earlier in the 13to an employment office run by the Israeli "civil administration," sources said. Troops wounded ence is 500 shekels ($276). protest.

In the Gaza Strip town of Rafah, troops closed indefinitely a few dozen stores along a street where cars are frequently stoned. sources said.

Soldiers firing to disperse protests wounded to Palestinians at Gaza's Deir Al Balah refugee camp, two at Sha'ti camp and one at Khan Younis, hospital officials said.

An army spokesman said one Palestinian was shot and wounded at Tulkarem camp in the West Bank. He said he had reports of only two others being shot - the two teenagers at Deir Al Balah.

Staff at the luxury American Maariv said an adviser to Israeli (Agencies) — Israeli soldiers shot Colony hotel in Arab Jerusalem said police raided the premises earlier in the week and fined seven West Bank employees sleeping there without permits. Hotel-staff said police made > month-old Palestinian uprising. The maximum fine for the off-Staff at Arab Jerusalem's St

> John's Hospital said police asked Thursday to check the identity papers of more than 60 workers and told them they would require work permits at some unspecified future date.

Meanwhile, Israeli peace activists rallied at a "tent city" in the Naqueb Desert Friday to protest the failing of Palestinians without trial, and a cabinet minister called for opening talks with the Palestine Liberation Organisation

Defence Minister Yitzhak Rabin held a series of secret meeting with a jailed Palestinian leader on new political initiatives.

Reports on the meetings between Rabin aide Shmuel-Goren and Faisal Al Husseini, the chief pro-PLO leader in the occupied territories, were passed on to top PLO leaders abroad, the newspaper said.

Such meeting would mark a shift in the policy of the Israeli government.

Husseini is scheduled to be released from prison Sunday. He has been held without trial for most of the past 21 months, accused of playing a role in the Palestinian uprising.

Defence ministry spokesman Eitan Haber declined to comment on the reported meetings. Fuad Al Aref, an associate of Husseini, said he had visited Husseini last Monday and that the

Higher committee meets in Cairo today

CAIRO (Petra) - Industry and Trade Minister Hamdi Tabbaa and Egyptian Minister of International Cooperation Maurice Makramallah Friday signed minutes of preparatory meetings ahead of Saturday's meeting here of the Joint Jordanian-Egyptian Higher Committee co-chaired by Prime Minister Zaid Rifai and his Egyptian counterpart Atef Sedki.

The minutes include scopes of cooperation and the steps taken to implement earlier resolutions and recommendations of the higher committee.

Tabbaa and Makramallah said Jordanian-Egyptian relations can now serve as a model to be emulated by Arab countries. They also voiced the hope that such cooperation would be further enhanced to achieve economic integration.

In a statement to Petra, Tabbaa said the preparatory committee's decisions and recommendations would be submitted to the higher committee for

He added that the minutes covered scopes of cooperation in the fields of tourism, transport, commercial exchange, education, culture, health, economy and mining.

Tabbaa said the annual olume of trade between Jordan and Egypt amounts to $350 million and that both countries seek to increase it. He noted that the Aqaba-Nuweibe sea route was one of the maio joint projects and that it provided an opportunity for wider cooperation. The Jordanian side to the meeting will include the ministers of transport, labour, energy, information, higher education, interior, agriculture, tourism and industry and trade, as well as the president of the Aqaba Region Authority, the chairman and chief executive officer of Royal Jordanian, ministry of industry and trade's secretary try's director.

Al Hussein attends event, underlines attractions of port

Polisario declares one-month truce

PARIS (R) - Polisario Front guerillas will observe a ceasefire throughout February in the war with Morocco for independence of the Western Sahara, their leader announced Friday. Mohammad Abdul Aziz told the weekly French magazine Le Point that the one-month truce was a goodwill gesture ahead of peace talks with King Hassan of Morocco which are expected to reopen within days. 'To encourage dialogue and the search for peace we have just decided unilaterally to observe a military truce for the whole of February," he told the magazine. The first direct talks between the two sides in the 13-year conflict were held Jan. 4. While the Polisario have fought for an independent state in the former Spanish colony of Western Sahara for 13 years, the hostilities are presently at a low level. Abdul Aziz pledged that an independent Western Sahara would pose no problem to Morocco, either in economic or security terms.

"We can guarantee that we will never allow forci ers to set up military bases nor will we sign military treaties with any third country," he said. Polisario hopes for detailed talks, page 2

Aqaba hosts 280-km power boat race

AQABA (Petra) — His Majesty King Hussein Friday attended the Offshore Power Boat Race, organised by the Royal Jordanian Water Skiing and Boating Fed-eration, the Royal Jordanian Coast Guard, the Royal Yachts and the Aquamarina Hotel in cooperation with the Ports Corporation and in coordination with Saudi Arabia and Egypt.

Taking part in the 280kilometre race were Their Roval Highnesses Prince Abdullah Ibn Al Hussein and Prince Faisal Ibn Al Hussein and many other contestants from Jordan, Kuwait, the United Arab Emirates, the United States, Australia, Britain, and West Germany.

The contestants raced off from Aqaba, through the territorial waters of Egypt and Saudi Arabia and to Faraoh Island and back. Commenting on the race, King Hussein said the sport event provides an opportunity for Arab youth, particularly youth from the Gulf states, to take part.

The King noted that Aqaba Port was an attraction for tourists and visitors from the Arab World and outside and that it is a unique port in the world in view of its good and pleasant climate.

The King voiced hope that sport events and youth gathering will held more frequently in Aqaba and that the port will enjoy the status it deserves in the King Hussein pointed out that Jordan had an abundance of anti-

He also expressed hope that the whole world know more and more about Jordan, which lies in the heart of the Arab World. The race was attended by Her Majesty Queen Noor and a num-ber of officials and citizens.

U.N. seeks 'incentives' for Iran-Iraq talks

NICOSIA (Agencies) — U.N. mediator Jan Eliasson arrived in Iraq from Iran Friday searching 'new incentives" which might lure the Gulf war foes back to the bargaining table after an 11-week

He inspected the Gulf war ceasefire lines in the region and was scheduled to fly by helicopter to Baghdad later for meetings with senior Iraqi leaders, including Foreign Minister Tareq Aziz, who returns Friday from a visit to Rome, U.N. officials reported.

Eliasson, Sweden's U.N. General Javier Perez de Cuellar's special emissary, said before leaving Tehran: "It is very important to create a new momentum to speed up the trend of future peace talks."

The negotiations began Aug. 25, five days after a U.N.-sponsored ceasefire in the eight-yearold Gulf war took effect.

They broke up in deadlock Nov. 11 after several sessions, with both sides accusing each other of obstructing progress.

Iran's official Islamic Republic

News Agency quoted Eliasson as saying at Tehran airport that his four days of talks with Prime Minister Hussein Musavi, Foreign Minister Ali Akbar Velayati and other officials were "very useful and fruitful." He did not Eliasson told the Iraqi News Agency (INA) he discussed the whole range of issues with offi- western territory.

cials in Tehran but it was too early to say whether his mission would bring positive results.

"There has been a need for a new incentive," he said. "I hope this stage will be a contribution towards achieving peace." He arrived at the southern Iraqi city of Basra with General Ślavko Jovic, Yugoslav commander of the United Nations team of military observers monitoring the ceasefire. Tehran Radio, monitored in Nicosia, also quoted Eliasson, as saying before leaving Tehran that it was important to create new incentives to speed up the peace talks.

The Iraqi government newspaper Al Jumhuriya said Eliasson would hear in Baghdad the same thing that he had heard from Iraqi negotiators in Geneva.

Iraq insists that the ceasefire should be fixed before negotiations move on to other items in Resolution 598, the U.N. Security Council's ceasefire resolution. and that the dredging of the Shatt Al Arab border waterway is part of the ceasefire.

Iran rejects the idea that the waterway should be cleaned of war debris before its legal status, one of the basic issues of the war, is resolved.

It says top priority should be given to the withdrawal of the Īraqi troops it claims still occupy 1,000 square kilometres of its

Amal-Hizbollah duels rage despite peace call

rival militia snipers erupted again in South Lebanon Friday, despite a call from Iran's president for them to settle their feud peacefully at talks in Damascus. Sources in the Amai and Hiz-bollah (Party of God) militias said sporadic machinegun-fire raked the hill-top village of Jubah, the focus of three weeks of battles.

The firing ignored a call by Iranian President Ali Khamenei for the two sides to end fighting in their year-long struggle for lead-ership of Lebanon's 1.5 million Shi'ites.

"I ask all Lebanese brothers to seize these opportunities and halt bloodshed and fighting so that bitter events are not repeated in Lebanon," he said at Friday prayers in Tehran.

Khamenei was referring to a joint Iranian-Syrian drive to reconcile the warring militias at peace talks in Damascus. More than 140 people have been killed and thousands displaced in this month's battles.

Lebanese sources in Syria said the talks would resume as soon as Iranian Foreign Minister Ali Akbar Velayati, who left for Tehran Wednesday returned to Damascus.

Velayati and Syrian Foreign. Minister Farouk Al Sharaa brokered a truce between the militias announced Wednesday. Three hours later, it was shattered by fresh clashes in the Iglim Al

BEIRUT (R) — Duels between Tufah district of South Lebanon Independent sources said they doubted if Amal and Hizbollah could be quickly reconciled as the differences between them were too deep. The two militias are in religious, political and military competition with each other. One source said it seemed virtually impossible to find a lasting solution despite the apparent determination of Syria and Iran to end to the war. An Amal spokesman in Beirut said his group's main condition for peace remained that Hizbollah must hand over the killers of three Amal leaders shot dead Sept. 22 last year.

Hizbollah, which emerged in 1984 to challenge Amai's leadership over Lebanon's largest single community, has repeatedly denied it was involved in the killings and has linked a return to South Lebanon to Shi'ite reconciliation. It was ousted from the Shi'ite heartland in the south in five days of battles with Amal last April.

The two groups also differ on dealing with Israel. Hizbollah advocates launching attacks against Israeli troops and their local allies in the self-declared "security zone" set up by the Zionist state in South Lebanon in

Amal seeks an Israeli withdrawal from Lebanon but opposes assaults on Israeli forces in case they provoke retaliatory

Secret PLO contacts' iailed leader had denied rumours general and the Prime Minisof exploratory talks with Israeli Also Friday, the Hebrew daily 'troika' discuss peace conference Arafat, EEC

MADRID (Agencies) — Palestine Liberation Organisation (PLO) Chairman Yasser Arafat held his first official talks with the European Economic Community (EEC) Friday in a bid to enlist EEC support for an international conference aimed at ending the Arab-Israeli conflict. Arafat met the foreign ministers of Spain, the current president of the EEC Council of Ministers, France and Greece for two hours and told them Europe should be involved in efforts to bring about such a conference, diplomats said. Diplomats said Arafat called informally for EEC recognition of Palestine in his talks with the three ministers, known as the "troika," and in a four-hour meeting with Prime Minister Felipe Gonzalez Thursday night.

The three new were designated to spearhead an EEC Middle East peace initiative launched after the PLO recognised Israel's

LONDON (Agencies) — Aircraft specialists trying to find the cause of the Boeing 737 crash in central England say a lump of ice

may have smashed the main fan

of one of the engines, the Times

The Jan. 8 crash near the village of Kegworth killed 46 people, including a woman who died

analysis of the British Midland

Airways plane's two engines by engineers from the French company Snecma have not found

what caused the plane's left en-

Snecma builds the CFM-56 engines with General Electric Company. The engines of the jet are being examined at the headquarters of Specma at Villaroche near

The paper said a detailed of London reported Friday.

of her injuries Thursday.

gine to break up.

right to exist and opened a dialogue with the United States. Israel has rejected an international peace conference and called for direct talks with the The PLO leader later had an audience with King Juan Carlos, something not granted when he first visited Madrid 10 years ago. Spanish Foreign Minister Francisco Fernandez Ordonez has said the purpose of Arafat's 24-hour visit was "to inform and be informed," rather than seek tangible results. None of the 12 EEC member countries has recognised the inde-pendent State of Palestine proclaimed last year. Diplomats have said recognition by individual members would create divisions within the group. An Israeli spokesman said reacting to the Madrid meeting, was "gravely dis-Israel appointed." The spokesman said in a state-

"Investigators are relying on two theories, that it was damaged

after being struck by a foreign

body, possibly ice from the waste pipe of the forward lavatory, or that the blades suffered metal fatigue," the newspaper report

thing wrong with the jet's right

engine and no evidence to explain

why the crew shut it down," it

The crew shut down the right

engine of the plane while the left engine caught fire. News reports have said investigators are examining the possibility of faulty

The Times report said detailed metallurgical tests are being carried out on every piece of recoelectronics.

"The engineers have found no-contribute to peace."

Arafat arrived in the Spanish capital Thursday night from Iraq and went directly to a four-hour

ment that the talks "will working dinner with Gonzalez. Neither made a statement following the meeting, but a Spanish government spokesman said both men considered 1989 "a very important year" in the search for peace in the Middle East.

Their talks centred on how to start negotiations leading to a peace conference sponsored by the United Nations, and Gonzalez told Arafat the EEC would focus on ways of launching a dialogue based on the Palestinians right to self-determination and Israel's right to secure bor-

Spanish diplomats said the EEC approach also included

gine's fan blades are still missing.

them caused the crash and how,"

Lockerbie search ends

Scottish police have abandoned

search for 17 bodies missing

since a Pan Am Boeing 747

crashed on the Scottish border

town of Lockerbie, and said it recovered.

Dumas recently visited Israel, and members of the EEC "troika" planned to travel next month to Egypt and Jordan. They also planned to make contacts with the United States and other members of the U.N.

counterpart Roland

French

Security Council. Reports in the Spanish press Friday indicated Spain and the majority of its EEC partners favour self-determination for the Palestinian people and view recognition of a Palestine state as a logical outcome of this process.

But the consensus appeared to be that recognition of a state that does not exercise effective control over its declared territory and inhabitants would be difficult. Fernandez Ordonez said the EEC's official position on Palestine would be made public until after a full meeting of the council withdrawal of Israel from the occupied West Bank and Gaza Strip and respect of human rights. of foreign ministers in Madrid Fernandez Ordonez and his Feb. 14.

Lump of ice may have caused Midlands crash vered wreckage from the left enbie residents and seven U.S. gine but that work is being hamcitizens and three Hungarians

pered because many of the enwho were on the plane. "The scale of the disaster has inevitably led to the conclusion "Those that have been found are badly damaged, presenting a that some of the bodies may major problem for the metallurnever be recovered," Boyd told a gists trying to establish which of news conference.

The Pan Am Boeing 747 en route from London to New York was destroyed by a bomb Dec. 21, killing 270 people in the air and on the ground. Bodies and debris were widely scattered around Lockerbie, where a chunk of the Jumbo jet carved a massive crater, burying a row of houses and some of their

was unlikely they would ever be occupants. A special service for the mis-Police spokesman John Boyd sing victims will be held in the said a thorough search covering 2,180 square kilometres had town's Dryfesdale cemetery found no trace of seven Locker-

Shevardnadze due in Pakistan Feb. 4 for crucial Afghan talks

Soviet transport planes are leaving Kabul each day carrying troops and strategic equipment.

advised their citizens to leave

Afghanistan immediately while commercial flights are still oper-

U.S. Secretary of State James

A. Baker, during his first day on close the U.S. embassy in Kabul

because of the growing turmoil as Shevardnadze's talks with top

Pakistani leaders will take place

just 11 days before the deadline for all Soviet troops to be gone from Afghanistan under a U.N.-

brokered withdrawal accord

would probably be Moscow's last effort to forge a peace agreement before its troops quit Afgha-

earlier this month for talks with

Pakistani officials and leaders of the seven-party alliance of Afghan guerrillas.

The Mujahedeen so far have shown no signs of willingness to agree on setting up a coalition government that would include the People's Democratic Party of

Afghanistan (PDPA), now ruling

iahedeen alliance leader Sibghat-tullah Mojaddidi said there was no further point in talks with

After Vorontsov's visit, Mu-

in Kabul, as Moscow wants.

the job, decided Thursday

Soviet troops withdraw.

ating from Kabul.

Several Western countries have

ISLAMABAD (Agencies) — Soviet Foreign Minister Eduard Shevardnadze will hold crucial talks on the Afghan civil war with Pakistani leaders in early February, a Pakistani official said Friday.

Shevardnadze will be the high-est-ranking Soviet official to visit Pakistan in more than 20 years, since Soviet Premier Alexi Kosygin visited in the late 1960s, the Foreign Ministry official said.

Shevardnadze is scheduled to make a one-day stop in Islamabad Feb. 4 and meet with President Ghulam Ishaq Khan, Prime Minister Benazir Bhutto and Foreign Minister Sahabzada Yaqub Khan, the official said. The Soviet foreign minister will fly to Islamabad after visiting China from Feb. 2-3.

"We hope our talks with the Soviet leader will pave the way for a peaceful settlement. although the situation on the ground in Afghanistan is depressing," said the spokesman. Soviet Defence Minister Dmitri Yazov has arrived in Kabul. less than three weeks before the last of his troops are due to complete their withdrawal from Afghanistan.

An aide to Soviet Ambassador Yuli Vorontsov said that Yazov had arrived Wednesday for a working visit which was likely to

He was expected to meet President Najibullah and Defence Minister Shahnawaz Kanai, the aide said. He would give no further details.

The last of some 115,000 Soviet soldiers are due to be out of Afghanistan by Feb. 15 under last year's Geneva accord.

Western diplomats said the final stages of the pullout began in early January and some 15-20 Kabul will collapse quickly once Soviet troops have pulled out under the Geneva accords brokered by the United Nations last April.
On his return to Moscow,

Vorontsov hinted that Soviet troops might stay in Afghanistan beyond the deadline because of continued heavy fighting.

Diplomats in Kabul, however, reported that the Soviet pullout was continuing and that as many as half the 30,000 Soviet troops who had ringed Kabul may have left aiready.

The rebel alliance, based in the Pakistani city Peshawar, has announced plans to hold a consultative assembly, or "shura" on Feb. 10 to name an interim 20v-ernment. The meeting has been delayed by disputes between the predominantly Sunni Peshawar-based groups and four Iran-based par-. ties of the minority Shi'ita Islamic sect over how many seats should be allotted to the Tehran groups.

signed last spring.
Western diplomats in Islama-bad said a Shevardnadze visit Iran's foreign minister has urged Pakistan-and Iranian-based Afghan rebels to unite and form a single government in Afghanistan, Tehran Radio said Friday. Vorontsov was in Islambad

The radio also quoted Ali Akbar Velayati as welcoming cooperation between the sevenparty alliance based in Pakistan and the coalition based in Tehran.

Velayati was speaking after talks with Gulbuddin Hekmatyar, a representative of the Pakistanbased alliance who arrived in Tehran Thursday.

"He (Velayati) pointed to the need for all Afghan Mujahedeen to unite in forming a government that will conform with the wants Moscow. of the Afghan people and in-The Mujahedeen believe terests of Islam," the radio said.

helicopter gunship flies over a convoy of Soviet equipment protected by Afghan soldiers; Kabul residents queue up to buy bread, in short supply because roads into the capital have been cut.

Iran rejects Bush signal for better ties with U.S.

Moscow.

NICOSIA (Agencies) — Iranian President Ali Khamenei said Friday Tehran did not need ties with the United States, rejecting a signal for better relations by U.S. President George Bush.

The Iranian nation does not need America. The American president, who has set conditions for resumption of ties with Iran. should know that it is we who have declared conditions. Tehran Radio quoted Khamenei as saying in a Friday prayer sermon.

In his inaugural speech last week. Bush made a passing remark about American hostages held in Lebanon by pro-Iranian militants, making clear that Washington would respond positively to any help leading to their release.

"We have always said that we will restart relations with America at a time when it has given up its arrogant ways," Tehran Radio monitored in Nicosia quoted Khamenei as saving.

"It is we who set conditions for the United States because we do not accept American oppression and interference in the affairs of other countries," Khamenei said. Iranian leaders have demanded the unblocking of Iranian assets frozen in the United States for 10 years as a goodwill gesture from Washington before resumption of

They have also said they would intercede with their Lebanese allies on behalf of the 10 American hostages if the U.S. government used its influence to free four Iranians they say were kidnapped by right-wing militias in Lebanon in 1982.

Iran's spiritual leader Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini, repeated his rejection of ties with the United States in November. saying Washington acted like a wolf towards a lamb in dealing Ali Khamenei with Tehran.

But with the ceasefire in the Gulf war against Iraq in August and the adoption of a more moderate foreign policy by Iran, several articles favouring an improvement in ties with the United States have appeared in the Iranian press.

The Iranian newspaper Ettelaat said Monday Tehran should take up Bush's offer and cooperate with the Americans on the hostage issue.

It said national interests were more important than attachment to slogans and Iran should avoid making the diplomatic mistakes which led to its virtual isolation during the war.

But the hardliners in the Iranian leadership stand firm against ties with the "great Satan" as Iran described the United States.

U.S.-Israel 'coordination'

A key Israeli figure in the Iran-contra affair said Friday that the United States and Israel would likely combine efforts once again "in resurrecting their standing in Tehran" after the trial of an Israeli team that handled the initial U.S. arms shipments to Iran, also said the project went awry because of the "amateurof the former National Security Council aide and an

Oliver North.

Nimrodi alleged in a radio interview and an article he wrote in the daily Jerusalem Post that a n reason for the disclosure of the affair was the replacement of his three-man team with North and Amiram Nir, the late Israeli adviser, which in turn led to diversion of funds.

"Diverting money to the contras wouldn't have happened without distancing the Israeli trio. Without the entry of Oliver North and the late Amiram Nir into this arena, believe me, this would not have happened," Nimrodi said on Israel radio.

In the Post, he wrote that the Nir-North phase was characterised by "a mixture of amateurism, inability to read the map correctly, the absence of any experience in Iran, the lack of professional judgement and the resort to illegal actions."

Nimrodi, an arms dealer, handled the first three shipments of U.S. weapons to Iran in 1985 along with businessman Al Schwimmer and former foreign ministry director David Kimche. The trio was replaced by Nir after he intervened in the affair in the end of December 1985.

Nir, who resigned from his post last year, died in a mysterious plane crash in Mexico in December 1988. North, accused of concealing his efforts on behalf of the contras in Nicaragua, goes on trial next Tuesday. Nimrodi credited his trio with the release of one American who was held hostage in Lebanon. Another, he said, was released due to Nir's efforts.

Somalia to free political prisoners

LONDON (R) — Somali Prime Minister Mohammad Ali Samantar has announced that his government would untical prisoners as part of a package of reforms in his wartorn country.

Samantar, on an official visit to Britain, invited Amnesty International, the Londonbased human rights organisation, to witness the liberation of between 250 and 300 detainees and said many would be freed by the end of April.

Amnesty International accepted the offer but said there were well over a thousand political detainees in the country where rebels have been fighting the government for a decade.

Samantar, who has had talks with Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher and Foreign Secretary Sir Geoffrey Howe. Wednesday, also offered an amnesty to government opponents abroad.

He told reporters that prisoners to be released would include those held for political reasons since an upsurge of fighting between rebels and government troops in northern omalia last year.

The war has hampered the distribution of aid to hundreds of thousands of victims of famine and drought in the Samantar said an investigation was under way into alleged human rights abuses in Somalia.

Polisario hopes for detailed peace talks

MADRID (R) - A senior Poli- apart from building on mutual sario Front representative said in confidence." Sayed told El Pais, an interview published Friday he adding that the next two months hoped the group's second meeting with Morocco's King Hassan would focus on details. Bachir Mustapha Sayed, num-discussions were very general at a landmark first meeting earlier ish colony. this month. "Now the conversations have to take on a more rigorous tone, to bring about a tangible political agreement either on the whole issue or at least on the essential elements," Sayed said. Sayed, in Spain to discuss prospects for an end to Polisario's 13-year-old war for independence in the Western Sahara, said Wednesday the next meeting with King Hassan was expected to take place at the end of this month.

"The meeting will produce some new step towards peace, this war."

would be crucial for the future of the region. But he rejected the notion that the conflict might be solved by ber two in the Polisario hierar- creating a sort of autonomous chy, told El Pais newspaper that region within Morocco for the Western Sahara, a former Span-

"Our unnegotiable objective is still independence...(But) we are prepared to guarantee that the future state will not turn its back on Morocco or have closer ties with some country other than Rabat," Sayed said.

He said the first talks with King Hassan, at his palace in Marrakesh, had surprised the Polisario representatives because the king was informal and friendly, dispensing with ceremony and "showing his human side when he expressed grief at the tragedy of deaths and orphaned children in

Howe says meeting with Arafat possible

tion (PLO) chairman.

"I'm not looking for a meeting for the sake of a meeting," he told a news conference Wednesday when asked whether he saw any value in meeting with Arafat.
"The possibility of such a meeting is not excluded," he said, adding: "I've no doubt that one will be possible at a certain

Britain upgraded its approach to the PLO following Arafat's announcement that he recognises Israel and renounces terrorism. and a Howe deputy, William Waldegrave, talked with Arafat in Tunis earlier this month in the highest-level British-PLO meet-

On Tuesday Waldegrave had talks with Bassam Abu Sharif, a said. senior Arafat aide, who is visiting Abu Sharif hinted at raised hopes for a meeting between Arafat and U.S. Secretary of State James Baker.

LONDON (AP) — Foreign between U.S. diplomats in Tunis Secretary Sir Geoffrey Howe has said he might meet with Yasser at a higher level, he replied: Arafat "at a certain stage" if there "There is no reason whatsoever was something to discuss with the Palestine Liberation Organisa- other or higher meeting is excluded.

> Asked specifically about an Arafat-Baker meeting, he said: Efforts are under way.

Abu Sharif rejected the idea of calling a truce in the 13-monthold Palestinian uprising in the occupied West Bank and Gaza Strip, but denied the PLO had threatened to kill Bethlehem Mayor Elias Freij for suggesting such a truce.

Abu Sharif referred to Freij as "our brother" and said nobody could expect the Palestinians to call off their uprising.

"The intifada is a human reaction to oppression. You cannot expect someone whom you beat and corner not to respond," he

"The Palestinians will stop the intifada when the course of that intifada stops," he said. "People who really want to see the intifada stopping should cooperate with us to convince the Israeli Asked at a news conference army to withdraw" from the whether the talks recently opened occupied territories.

MIDDLE EAST NEWS IN BRIEF

PLO to open embassy in Indonesia

JAKARTA (R) - The Palestine Liberation Organisation (PLO) plans to establish an embassy in Indonesia, PLO official Zehdi Labib Terzi said Friday. Terzi, PLO envoy to the United Nations. told reporters after meeting Foreign Minister Ali Alatas: "We were advised that Indonesia had agreed to establish diplomatic relations with the State of Palestine...on the level of an embassy. Indonesia, which has the world's largest Muslim population, last November formally recognised the independent State of Palestine. "I hope next time I come here, within the shortest possible time, it will be to finalise and set up the embassy of the State of Palestine in Indonesia," Terzi said.

New Sudanese government likely next week

KHARTOUM (R) — A senior member of a key Sudanese party said in remarks published Friday that a new coalition government was likely to be formed next week. Ali Osman Taha, deputy secretary-general of the co-ruling National Islamic Front (NIF) party, said the government would be formed after Monday's scheduled parliamentary vote on a policy statement given by Prime Minister Sadeq Al Mahdi this week. Parliamentary approval of Mahdi's statement is a foregone conclusion since his Umma Party and the militant NIF, main partners in the present coalition, enjoy a majority in the 301-seat house. Taha, whose remarks were published in Al Khartoum daily, said the new government would include all political parties except the Demo-cratic Unionist Party (DUP). in opposition since it quit the government last month.

Rebels attack Turkish coal mine

DIYARBAKIR, Turkey (R) — Kurdish rebels fighting for autonomy attacked a coal mine in southeastern Turkey, security sources said Friday. They said the 15 rebels of the Kurdish Workers Party (PKK) destroyed machinery and raked with gunfire a building at the small mine, 30 kilometres from the Iraqi frontier, Thursday night. No casualties were reported. Earlier Thursday, rebels attacked a convoy of six trucks waiting at the frontier to pick up crude oil from Iraq. Two trucks were set ablaze and four were damaged. At least 1,300 people, including many civilians, have been killed since mid-1984 when the PKK launched a campaign to win autonomy for Turkey's estimated eight million

Blast damages union office in Ankara

ANKARA (R) — A blast rocked the Ankara branch of Turkey's metal employers union Friday but four officials locked in a room by the attackers were not hurt, police said. The dynamite explosion caused extensive damage to union offices in a ninestorey business and trade centre in the main Kizilay district at 9.00

Hopes of imminent hostage release fade BEIRUT (Agencies) -- Hopes of coupled with a report in the

an imminent release of British hostages in Lebanon were fading Friday and a local radio station said the expected move was "mere speculation based on rumours.

"Reports of an imminent hostage release appeared to be mere speculation based on rumours," the Voice of the Nation radio station, based in west Beirut,

British embassy spokesman Antoine Haddad told the Associated Press: "We still have no hard information." He would not comment further. Hana Naja, an employee of the Irish embassy's consular section in west Beirut, said Irish Ambassador to Lebanon Patrick McCabe, who is based in Baghdad, would arrive in west Beirut Saturday evening to investigate the rumours. "We don't have new information," she said. The rumours that have buzzed Beirut since Wednesday afternoon spoke of an imminent release within 72 hours of John McCarthy, a journalist, and Brian Keenan, a teacher who also holds Irish citizenship. McCarthy, 32, of Barnet, north London, a producer for the London-based Worldwide Television News Agency, was kidnapped April 17, 1986, as he drove to Beirut airport for a flight to Keenan, 38, of Ormeau Road, Belfast, was kidnapped April 11, 1986, as he walked to the American University of Beirut where he held a teaching post.

No group has claimed the abduction of either McCarthy or Keenan, who are among 15 Westerners missing in Lebanon and believed held by pro-Iranian extremists. The others are nine Americans, a Belgian, an Italian and two other Britons.

Lebanon were preceded by communications from the kidnappers. No such statements regarding Keenan or McCarthy were reported in recent days. The rumours in Beirut were

Previous releases of hostages in London-based Arabic newspaper Al Hayat that discussions were underway between Iran and 'countries involved" to secure Keenan's release. The Voice of Lebanon radio station, based in east Beirut, also reported Thursday that the two British hostages would be released soon. Irish Foreign Minister Brian Lenihan met his Iranian counterpart Ali Akbar Velayati in Paris earlier this month during an international conference Irish Ambassador to Syria Declan Connolly, who is based in Saudi Arabia, met with Syrian Foreign Minister Farouk Al Sharaa in Damascus Wednesday.

300 / 250

JORDAN TIMES DAILY GUIDE AND CALENDAR

PROGRAMME ONE Programme review Children programme ...... The Friends Message from Iraq 18:15 ..... A play by Shakespeare Local programme ..... Arabic series

JORDAN TELEVISION

Tel: 773111-19

PROGRAMME TWO 18:00 Cousteau: A la Redecouverte du Monde

Arabic play
News in Arabic

News in Hebrew News in Agabic ... Growing Pains Alfred Hitchcock Saturday Variety Show News in English Feature film: "The Dead of PRAYER TIMES

> Dhuhr 'Asr ..... Maghreb CHURCHES

Assemblies of God Church, Tel. ph Church Tel. 624590. Church of the Annunciation Tel De la Salle Church Tel. 661757

uta Church Tel: 622366 Anglican Church Tel. 625383, Tel. Armenian Catholic Church Tel. 771331. Armenian Orthodox Church Tel. St. Ephraina Church Tel. 771751. Amman International Church Tel. 685326.

Evangelical Lutheran Church Tel; 811295. Rainbow Congregation Tel. 822605. The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints Tel. 815817, 821264 WEATHER

Bulletin supplied by the Department of Clouds increase gradually and scat-tered rain is expected. Winds will be northeasterly moderate. In Agaba, it will be partly cloudy with a chance for scattered rain while winds will be 37 10 77 17 Aqaba .. Deserts Jordan Valley .....

Yesterday's high temperatures: Amman 11.7, Aqaba 17.6. Humidity readings: Amman 46 per cent, Aqaba 38 USEFUL TELEPHONE NUMBERS NIGHT DUTY

AMMAN; 6619121 Al Asema pharmacy ......... Nairoukh pharmacy ........

636730 ....985238 ZARQA: Dr. Jihad Musleh .... Khalifeh pharmacy ................ 985417

EMERGENCIES Civil Defence Department ..... 661111 Civil Desence Immediate Civil Defence Emergency Rescuie Police ..... 192, 621111, 637777 Highway Police Traffic Police . 656390/91 Public Security Department ... 656000 / 685111

Amman Municipality Central Amman Telephone Jordan Television ..... Water Authority ... Jordan Electricity Authority ... 815615 Electric Power

HOSPITALS

Hussein Medical Centre .... 813813/32 Khalidi Maternity, J. Amn ... 644281/6 Akileh Maternity, J. Amn ... 642441/2 Jabal Amman Maternity ...... 642362 Malhas, J. Amman

Palestine. Shmeisani Shmeisani Hospital University Hospital . 845846 666127/37 Al-Ahli, Abdali ... Italian, Al-Muhajreen , Al-Bashir, J. Ashrafieb 777101/3 Army, Marka ...... 891611/15 Queen Alia Hospital Amai Hospital ..... ... 674155 ZAROA: Zarqa Govt. Hospital ..... (09)983323 Zarqa National Hospital ... (09)991071 Ibn Sina Hospital ....... (09)986732 IRBID: Princess Basma Hospital ... (02)275555 Greek Catholic Hospital ... (02)272275 Ibn Al Nafees Hospital ..... (02)247100 AQABA:

Princess Haya Hospital .... (03)314111 MARKET PRICES

750 / 650 150 / 100 Cabbage Carrots. 250 / 200 440 / 380 Cauliflowe Cucumbers .... 600 / 500 140 / 100 Dates ..... Eggplant . Garlic .... Grapefruit 170 / 120 Lettuce (per one) 120 / 80 280 / 200 Marrow (large) Marrow (small) 380 / 300 350 / 300 Orange (French) Orange (Shammo
Orange (local) ...
Onion (green) ....
Onion (dry) .... 400 / 340 250 / 200 200 / 160 220 / 160 Pepper (hot) 460 / 400 460 / 400 250 / 200 150: § 100: 270: [200] 180 / 120

Queen Noor takes part in tree planting celebrations

Tunis
Leted Mied:
Dever
i any s ex-

onth-Oaza had had ehem esting

eij as sbody ns to геас.

innot beat he

p the f that eople ntifa-

F

-Ü1 hdi

ns. We

atic of last les-me.

≥k

leni

outs (IF)

31.4

٦٢. · itis

Act.

1544!

riici

the

NACE

tanv the J

ev.

Pilet.

mac

g (ii) Auc.

is well

10 30j

كالتاعو

the two

r Briat

unier in par

anter.

ona De nased if Sonar Al Shat

କ୍ଷାଣ୍ଡିକ ଅନ୍ତର୍ଶ କଥାଚିତ୍ର ଅନ୍ତର୍ଶ କଥାଚିତ୍ର ଅନ୍ତର୍ଶ କଥାଚିତ୍ର ଅନ୍ତର୍ଶ କଥାଚିତ୍ର ଅନ୍ତର୍ଶ କଥାଚିତ୍ର ଅନ୍ତର୍ଶ କଥାଚିତ୍ର

AMMAN (J.T.) - Her Majesty Queen Noor Thursday took part in tree planting celebrations organised by the Royal Society for the Conservation of Nature (RSCN) at Yadoudeh district south of

The Queen planted trees along with senior officials and a large number of local residents at a site which the society is turning into a large forest in cooperation with the Ministry of Agriculture.

In a speech delivered at the ceremony, the society President Anis Muasher said that the RSCN was going ahead with plans to plant more forests on lands unsuitable for agriculture with the help of the Ministry of Agriculture which supplies the saplings and other requirements.

The president urged the private organisations, voluntary societies and citizens to join the national efforts and the society's endeavours to plant more trees and help green Jordan by the year

He said the society has already planted five forests in a number of regions around the capital. Among those attending the ceremony was Ministry of Agri-culture Secretary General Salem Al Lawzi.

Other tree planting celebrations took place Thursday at the Tlaa Al Ali, Umm Al Summaq. Khilda, Sweileh and Zahran dis### tricts within the Amman region. | Crown Prince Heads of local councils and representatives of public and primeets A spokesman for the Greater Jordanian Amman Municipality said that more than 25,000 saplings of fruit students and forest trees were planted during the celebrations which in U.K.

Her Majesty Queen Noor and members of the Royal Family Thursday plant a tree at Yadoudeh

LONDON (Petra) - His Royal Highness Crown Prince Hassan, who is currently on a visit to the United Kingdom, met Thursday with Jordanian students studying in British universities, and reviewed with them economic and educational policies in Jordan.

The Prince spoke about the present stage which requires adjustment to the current circumstances and the endeavours to stimulate the national economy in the light of the prevailing situation in the Arab World.

Prince Hassan said that Jordan

HRH Crown Prince Hassan

believes in the potential, as well as the creative and inventive skills of its young generation, and is keen on dealing with their issues in Jordan and abroad.

Prince Hassan also spoke on His Majesty King Hussein's current efforts on the Arab and international levels to serve Arah causes.

Hanania reviews institution's programmes

dent, it coordinates with the Health Ministry and the University of Jordan on a day to day bases. According to Hanania, the organisational procedures are devised so that the private sector

the NMI directorate was formed and approved by the board of regents, incorporating several innovative ideas, such as a consultative council composed of the head of disciplines of various specialities, to help the NMI in

The administrative structure of

can reorganise itself.

NMI to make drastic reforms in hospitals, build new ones

By Suhair Obeidat Jordan Times Staff Reporter

AMMAN — The National Medical Institution (NMI) is working on a long-term plan to meet the Kingdom's medical requirments until the year 2,000 and this requires building new hospitals and conducting drastic reforms the existing ones, NMI Director General Daoud Hanania said Thursday.

Jordan's population is expected to grow into 4.7 million in 11 years, making it imperative on the NMI to take such measures, Hanania said at a press conference in which he reviewed the institution's plans and prog-

The creation of the NMI, Hanania said, came upon the directives of His Majesty King Hussein, with the purpose of improving the standards of hospitals in the Kingdom and promoting the medical services for all the

Before the NMI was established, Hanania pointed out, the hospital system in the public sector was managed by three different organisations; the Armed Forces, the Health Ministry and the University of Jordan. "These organisations worked independently from each other to a very large extent.

"Therefore, there was independent planning, budget and training, not to mention separate administrative structures and procedures. This naturally led to varying standards and duplication of services, and most importantly to an increase in medical expenditure," Hanania said.

So, in the past year, he added, we have been involved in wide ranging efforts to find ways and means of coordination to reach our goals of unified health care

Though the NMI is financially and administratively indepen- Hanania Thursday speaks at press conference on training, equipment and upgrading services.

detailed manner, the training of serving the people referred to hospital workers, physicians, them from the medical centres of nurses, dental officers, pharma-cists and other allied health work-es, both inside and outside the country," Hanania said. the Health Ministry, through directives formulated by the ministry and the NMI." The transfer of patients, caused by planning group, following exten-sive and detailed surveys of our hospitals, have produced clear ideas of the budgetary requirments in the short and long terms to see how the individual citizen is affected by all this," he added.

there will be an increase in ex-penditure because of the reform health care system.

various specialities, including being implemented in the system. The NMI is responsible for all beneficiaries of the military and The training of management civil insurance schemes, and its personnel was a major flaw in our specialised hospitals (King Hussystem, so the department in sein Medical Centre and the Jorchrage would handle, in a very dan University Hospital) are

"Similarly, the development of either lack of beds, grade or a management information system is already under way. Our easier, Hanania said. "Queen Alia Hospital, which is a highly developed hospital, is considered an alternative for

The NMI, with an estimated In the meantime there will be budget of JD 52 million, will no increase in the health care create a residency programme provision, despite the fact that and fellowships in order to up-

military personnel," Hanania

National Medical Institute Director General Daoud

the plans and programmes of the institution (Petra

were organised by the Amman

vate organisations.

Municipality.

ROYAL DECREES: A Royal Decree has been issued endorsing the appointment of Wa'el Tougan as Jordan's non-resident ambassador to Argentina. Another Royal Decree has been issued endorsing the appointment of Dr. Ahmad Hilayel as secretary general of the Ministry of Awqaf and Islamic Affairs. (Petra)

NATIONAL NEWS IN BRIEF

TRAD GETS ADDITIONAL POST: Information Ministry Secretary General Trad Al Fayez has been given the additional post of inspector of press and publications. (Petra)

TARAWNEH MEETS ENVOYS: Minister of Supply Fayez Al Tarawneh Thursday held separate meetings with Italian Ambassador Francesco de Curten and Spanish Ambassador Ramon Armengod. During the two meetings the talks focused on supply and trade relations and means to bolster them. (Petra)

PHOTO EXHIBITION: Ministry of Culture and National Heritage Secretary General Dr. Hani Al Amad Thursday opened a six-day exhibition of oldphotographs entitled "Under the Clear Sky" of areas in the Middle East at the Royal Cultural Centre. The exhibition includes one hundred photos taken in the 19th century showing Arab markets, houses, archaeological sites, and various forms of social life in the areas extending from Algiers to Damascus. It also includes old photos of Jerusalem, Petra, and the Dead Sea. The exhibition is scheduled to be shown in Irbid and Aqaba. A seminar was also held on the sidelines of the exhibition on the art of photography. (Petra)

KARAK SEMINAR ON LOCUSTS: Karak Governorate students Thursday attended a seminar held by Agriculture Department at Al Hussein Secondary Vocational School on means to combat locusts.

AMIN CHAIRS SCOUTS MEETING: Amman Governor Mohammad Ali Al Amin Thursday chaired the meeting of the Amman branch administrative board of boy scouts and girl guides. It was decided, during the meeting, that the board hold periodic meetings, and that a committee be formed to study future plans.

CIVIL DEFENCE COURSE: A seven-day course on civil defence was concluded Thursday in Salt. The course included lectures and exercises on rescue operations, fire extinguishing, and guidance.

director of the Iraqi sulphur ported 104,350 tonnes of sulphur with Minister of Transport and nearly 400,000 tonnes are ex-

Aqaba for export via the port and imports goods through

Al Safi voiced his government's trucks commuting between appreciation to the Jordanian Aqaba and Baghdad is 12,500.

Aqaba.

sulphur exports via Aqaba

Jordan, Iraq discuss

AMMAN (Petra, J.T.) — The

establishment met here Thursday

Telecommunications Khaled Al

Haj Hassan to review the process of transporting Iraqi sulphur to

The Iraqi official, Abdul Sattar

government for the facilities provided for the export process.

Jordanian and Egyptian businessmen to meet Monday By Zaid Al Shilleh aimed at encouraging investment

Al Ra'i Staff Reporter

AMMAN - Jordanian and Egyptian businessmen will hold a meeting Monday at Al Uqsor in Egypt to discuss the role of the private sector in developing economic relations, and possibilities for setting up joint investment projects.

The two sides will also discuss means of supporting the joint Jordanian-Egyptian-Iraqi Land Bridge, and the projects proposed by the joint Jordanian-Egyptian Company for Investments and Development.

Mamdouh Abu Hassan, chairman of the Jordanian Businessmen's Association, and head of the Jordanian delegation to the meetings, said that economic cooperation between Jordan and Egypt could serve as a model for the pan-Arab economic cooperation. "Arab economic coopera-tion will contribute to enhancing the Arab World's position and enable it to compete with the world economic blocs." Speaking about the 4th session of the Jordanian-Egyptian businessmen, Abu Hassan said it and setting up joint economic projects benefitting both the peoples of Jordan and Egypt. Abu Hassan also said that the two sides to the meetings will discuss means of cooperation in implementing the equal commercial deal between both countries. Participants will also discuss a number of projects proposed and studied by the Jordanian-Egyptian Investment Company. These projects include the production of meat, fish, potatoes and Taking part in the meetings will be 80 Jordanian and Egyptian businessmen in addition to senior government officials from both sides, according to the Jordan News Agency, Petra.

estate includes 600 units complete with basic services and a good network of roads, schools, com-munity and health centres. The UDD has received 1,500

tribution process said that the three-stage project, which will cost JD 3.665 million, includes two schools, a community centre, a vocational training centre, a health clinic and an emergency and first aid unit, as well as a

will distribute more units built in first stage of the project, but those units of the second and planting celebration at the Marka housing estate and, in a statement to Al Ra'i newspaper later, he

MADABA SOCIAL SERVICES: Madaba Mayor Ahmad Qtaish said social service centres established in Madaba, Ma'in, Hisban, and Malih, in association with the Queen Alia Jordan Social Welfare Fund (QAF), adopted programmes designed to teach and rehabilitate women, and to provide special care for babies and mothers. This were implemented through holding lectures and activities in various fields. (Petra)

DHIBAN CHILDREN'S PARK: Efforts are underway to finish the children's park project in Dhiban sub-district. The project costs JD

UDD distributes 75 housing units in Ruseifa ZARQA (J.T.) — The Urban said that the Marka housing ready by July this year, Zagha He said that the project will be

Development Department (UDD) Thursday distributed 75 housing units to beneficiaries in the Ruseifa housing estate which is being built in stages.
UDD Director Hisham Al

applications from members of the public to benefit from the units in Marka, but they will be distri-Zagha who supervised the disbuted to families with less than ID 200 monthly income Zagh: said. in 1986 and the UDD has just received the first phase while the shopping area. In the coming week the UDD the course of implementing the third stages will be distributed in the coming two months, Zagha noted. Later, Zagha attended a tree Ministry of Education. He said the programme entails

At present the UDD is carrying out a major housing project of 1,400 units at Umm Nuwwara ready by early 1990 and the beneficiaries will have to pay 10 per cent of the total cost which will be (Qweismeh), south east of Am- spread over several years.

SUPPLY COUNCIL MEMBERS: The cabinet has endorsed the appointment of Mohammad Asfour, Khaled Abu Hassan, Khaled

two years. (Petra) 530 FAMILIES RECEIVE AID: The National Aid Fund office in Darwazeh, and Toujan Faisal as members of the Supply Council for Karak Governorate presented aid to 530 needy families in November and December. The aid amounted to JD 21,340. (Petra)

Ministry works out programme for proper training of teachers

AMMAN (Petra, J.T.) — The Ministry of Education has worked out an integrated programme to provide training and proper qualifications for teachers in Jordan in implementation of resolutions adopted by the first educational conference held in 1987, according to the director of the Teachers Qualification and Supervision Department at the Work on the project had begun

second and final stage will be rent groups of teachers: Those in the primary, the preparatory and the secondary levels at Jordanian be teachers at its schools.

Ministry of Higher Education.

The college, which opened its high-level training to 300 teachers in Arabic, English, Mathematics and religious education. He added that the ministry is now coordinating work with providing training to three diffe- Jordanian universities to introduce additional courses for students who can later be trained to

According to the official, nearly To carry out the programme, 75 per cent of teachers in governhe said, the ministry has created ment schools now hold teachers an advanced college for teachers training institute diplomas and 25 training in cooperation with the per cent of them have also acquired university degrees.

The ministry annually trains 15 door last year, is now providing per cent of its school teachers through high-level, short-term courses conducted in their own regions, the official said.

The training, he added, involves using textbooks, which the ministry is now introducing to the school curricula - a process which is expected to be completed by the year 1993.

WHAT'S GOING ON

altogether transporting up to 35,000 tonnes of goods.

He said so far Iraq has ex-

through the Aqaba Port and

pected to be exported during Iraq also exports oil products

At present, the number of

The following listings are compiled from monthly bulletins and the daily Arabic press. Readers are advised to verify the listed time and place with the concerned institutions.

EXHIBITIONS

☆ An exhibition of works by Contemporary Arab Artists at Al Wasiti Art Gallery.

☆ A plastic art exhibition by Egyptian artist Yassin Ibrahim Mohammad at the Housing Bank Gailery.

☆ An exhibition of photographic works by Wols (Ottto Wolfgang) Schulz) at the Goethe Institute. ☆ The Jordanian plastic art season which includes a general exhibition of works by Jordanian artists at the Professional Association Complex in Irbid. An art exhibition by artist Misa Erder at the Petra Bank

☆ A photography exhibition entitled "Under Pure Skies" exhibiting 100 19th century photographs of the Middle East at the

Royal Cultural Centre - 5:30 p.m. FORUM

☆ The Arabic-German literature forum at the Goethe Institute —

LITERARY EVENING

☆ A literary evening by Munira Shureih at Abdul Hamid Shoman Foundation — 6:00 p.m.

Shobak castle — home of the only Ayyubid palace SHOBAK Castle is one of the quest of Trans-Jordan in dence of the Ottoman garrison 1262. During the Mamluk Jordan's best-known monupresence is mainly noted in the ments. Located a few kilometres north of the town of Nijil, it is easily reached by visitors approaching Petra from the north. The castle stands on the summit of a steep hill close to the crest of the Wadi Araba. The dense labyrinth of architectural remains With the Ottoman conquest within the fortress walls are most commonly associated with the Crusader period, for the castle was initially built by a Frankish army. Yet upon closer examination of the ruins and the historical texts it is clear that the site was occupied continuously from the 12th century until the 20th century and represents one of the most significant ruins of the late Islamic period in Jordan. Shobak, founded in 1115-6

A.D. by Baldwin I the ruler of the Latin Kingdom of Jerusalem, was the primary fortress within the Crusader defences of Oultre-Jourdain, or Trans-Jordan. The short-lived Crusader presence in southern Jordan ended in 1189 when the army of the Ayyubid General Salaheddin conquered the fortress and established Ayyubid rule in the region.

Various Ayyubid princes held Shobak within their territories until the Mamluk conperiod the castle continued to play an important role in local defence, though the relative peace of the era enabled the town of Shobak (probably located on the site of the present village of Jaya) to prosper of the Levant in 1517 Shobak became a garrison post on the frontier of this large empire. On several occasions the local tribes forced the garrison to retreat to Palestine and in the 17th century the Ottomans seem to have abandoned the castle. By the end of the 19th century the tribes were once again subjected by Ottoman troops during the re-establishment of the garrison. By 1918, at the close of the Great Arab Revolt, the Ottomans were defeated for the last time and the castle became a village refuge for local bedouin and peasant

The architectural remnants preserved at Shobak attest to each of these occupations. Among the major monuments are: the Crusader Church and Chapel; an Ayyubid Palace; and the large defensive towers from the Mamluk period. Evireuse of earlier structures whereas numerous stone houses used by villagers during the Ottoman period until some 30-50 years ago are scattered across the site.

The Shobak Archaeological Project conducted a preliminary season during August 1986. The purpose of this campaign was to conduct excavations and an architectural study of the site. The work was concentrated in the Ayyubid Palace Complex although additional soundings were located west of the Crusader Church.

The most conclusive data were gathered from the palace complex where four phases of occupation were encountered.

Phase I consisted of the foundations and initial occupation of the Ayyubid Palace and Phase II pertains to architectural reconstructions carried out later in the Ayyubid period. Reoccupation was attested in the Phase III Mamluk stratum, as well as in the Phase IV remains from the Ottoman period. Architectural features predating the construction of the palace were also encountered. While more clarification is needed to determine the specific phasing of these components, it appears that both

Shobak Castle

Nabataean and Crusader elements are present beneath the palace foundations.

Historical documents demonstrate that at least three Ayyubid rulers carried out. constructions at the site, yet the texts do not specifically refer to the palace.

Nevertheless it appears that the palace was built by Al 'Mu'azzam 'Isa Ibn Al 'Adil who governed Shobak from 1197-1226.

This prince, who was appointed Sultan of Damascus in 1218, was exceptional among the Ayyubid lords of Shobak. He was noted for numerous constructions at the site, which he surrounded with beautiful gardens. Thus, it can be suggested that Al Mu'azzam 'Isa built the palace as his personal residence, before assuming the Damascene Sul-

The structure is unique in that it is the only Ayyubid palace in Jordan.

tanate.

Jordan Times

بورين تابعز يومية عربية سيضية مستللة تصدر بالانجليزية عن المؤسسة الصحلبة الأردبية

litorial Director: AKAN AL MAJALI

rector General:

R. RADI AL WAQFI

ditor-in-Chief: R. WALEED M. SADI

esimile: 661242

ditorial and advertising offices: rdan Press Foundation.

niversity Road, P.O. Box 6710, Amman, Jordan. elephones: 667171-6, 670141-4, 684311, 684366 olex: 21497 ALRAI JO

he Jordan Times is published daily except Fridays. ibscription and advertising rates are available from the urdan Times Advertising Department.

Rep in the right direction

IE ON-GOING negotiations between Egypt, Iraq, North men and Jordan to form a common market between them est be the talk of the Arab World. When these negotiaas come to fruition as expected they will offer the Arab oples the best news ever for a long time to come. Above , such a projected sub-regional Arab common market ald signal the end of the stage of talks for the sake of talks ii the beginning of a new era in inter-Arab relations that ald usher ever more action-oriented steps and measures ding to an overall Arab common market. It is true the nensions of the negotiations to affect a limited Arab mmon market, linking just four Arab states at this mitial ge, are not as ambitious as the Arab peoples would like and to be. The calls of Arab nationalism would not rest iet till total Arab economic and political unity is achieved. t aiming for such an ambitious objective in one leap may I up frustrating that dream. That is why it would be more adent to proceed one step at a time till that final giant step taken. It is the ardent hope of every citizen of the four ab countries joining now in a mini common market that er Arab countries would become organically linked with m in the kind of a generic Arab common market that ald stand the test of times and meet the imminent apetition coming its way from other regional common rkets proliferating the international scene. There is no ape from the conclusion that the world is witnessing the th of many regional united fronts, both economic and itical, and it is high time that the Arab World begin this cess in order to be able to meet the stiff competitive edge ed by this new phenomenon. It is with great satisfaction I pride that the Arab World saw the nuclei of such an er-Arab economic common markets begin in the Arab If region in the form of the Gulf Cooperation Council in 11. Concurrently with the four Mashreq countries' talks the formation of their own embryonic common market, re are also on-going talks between the Maghreb Arab intries of North Africa with a view of creating the same y objective between them. And when all these major regional Arab common markets begin to flex their nomic and in turn political muscles there is no telling ere their respective scope and jurisdiction would end. For e all the Arab peoples affected by such sub-regional amon markets would very much like to see Syria, canon and all the other Arab states, including hopefully estine, become integrated parts of this whole process. At searly stage there is nothing that would please Jordan re than to see Syria joining in the effort to realise part of Arab dream by becoming an early partner in Egyptian, ci. North Yemeni, and Jordanian projected common

ARABIC PRESS EDITORIALS

: formation of an Arab economic group, grouping Egypt, Inn. North Yemen and Iraq was the theme of Al Ra I Arabic y's editorial Friday. The idea which was highlighted by ptian President Hosni Mubarak in a statement to the press on ersday, had originally been advocated by His Majesty King win to serve side by side with the grouping of Arab countries ite Maghreb region, and thus consolidate inter-Arab political economic stance, the paper said. Indeed there will be no to in the world for weak nations in the light of the formation of e economic groupings in Europe and other parts of the world, paper added. The paper said that any grouping of Arab states he Mashreq will be open for other Arab countries to join in. will enhance further the Arab Nation's potential. The ation of this grouping, the paper concluded would no doubt ar in a new era for the Arabs and a new and stronger status mg world nations.

columnist in Al Ra'i daily tackles the prospect of forming a ii Arab delegation, grouping states in confrontation with the mist state for the coming international Middle East peace terence. Mahmoud Rimawi says that this will be a practical , but it has to be well prepared through contacts and sultations. The writer notes that Syria, Egypt, Jordan, vanon and Palestine are the most concerned parties in the estine question and therefore they ought to form one group can negotiate the future of the region through an internationonference which must also be attended by representatives of major nations of the world. The writer says that the slight rovement in relations between Cairo and Damascus can bear ed indications for a prospective action in this respect, since, ir all, the Arabs are all in the same boat, facing a common blem and a common enemy.

Dustonr daily newspaper dwelt on King Hussein's visit to Cairo hais talks with President Hosni Mubarak. The two leaders who sounced Thursday that they were working hand in hand to we the national interest, sounded very optimistic about the ire, in view of the positive developments witnessed in the Arab na represented in the end of the Gulf war and the world-wide port for the Palestinian uprising, the paper noted. It said that ry time the King meets with Mubarak, the outcome proves v encouraging and fruitful, simply because the two leaders are scating their time and efforts to serve their Arab nation. This tful relationship, the paper added, is now poised to achieve ther steps conducive to a stronger and more consolidated Arab Al Shaab daily said that King Hussein's talks with the Saudi Egyptian leaders were aimed at serving the Arab higher tests. Building a unified Arab stand and enhancing the larity of the Arab Nation is no doubt behind the King's cent tour, simply because the King has been calling for a joint on by the Arab Nation in dealing with the common challenges, paper said. It said that the coming Arab summit will be a right un for the Arabs where they can pool their efforts and their atries' resources for the benefit of the Arab Nation.

United Europe: For whites only?

By Yasmin Alibhai

THE DEEPER implications of real trepidation. "We are not looking to the future hopefully." said Tara Mukherjee, chairman of the Confederation of Indian Organisations, recently. "If 1992 means a reassertion of the worst lost. As non-white Europeans, we must fight and take up our rightful position in the vanguard of the new Europe and we will."

It is not the usual clinging to these fears. Nor is it the destruc-The worry is that there is a collective dreams for 1992 to cluswhich is white, racist and much more powerful than any post-war individual state.

Professor Chris Mullard, head of ethnic studies at the University trol. of Amsterdam, puts in this way. "The states in Europe are fiercely nationalistic. What 1992 represents is a transformation of nationalism into a white continentalism, altogether more tight, resilient, and with more power." Conceived primarily as an economic union, he believes, the European Community now needs a firmer coherence if it is to establish some kind of real presence in the future, particularly with changed global relationships. A reaffirmation of prewar attitudes towards the Third World, and a self-image of superiority may well be the glue that is needed for the bonding. One way of triggering off such a frenzy of togetherness would be to create the image of demons at the door.

A more sophisticated way, though, is to assert the existence of a shared European ethnic identity, emanating from a common Graeco-Roman tradition. This is the current talk of many right wingers who claim that the core culture which runs through the backbone of Europe needs to be nurtured and protected from alien influences. The trouble is that the unity of Europe in the past had little in common with this cosy image. The European nations often detested each other. Such a bond as did exist stream in this country. was external — a common sense of their superiority over the rest of the world and their right to

The post-war experience did only temporarily. But the hubris "From our perspective today, gaining momentum. surely what strikes us most is our yes, without apology - civilised much of the world is an extraordinary tale to talent, skill and 1992 and the Single European courage." She also made a strong Act are, and should be, causing assertion that Europe was Christian.

> All this, therefore, raises a central and neglected question: Where do non-white Europeans fall within such a vision?

Even those non-whites who are elements of white bigotry, we are already part of the nation states - immigrants, migrants, their offspring — fail outside what those countries perceive as "desirable" citizens. Otherwise it would not have been possible to the status quo which is producing pass the kind of racist legislation which so many countries in tive parochialism of many British. Europe - Britain, Belgium, France and the Netherlands respectable xenophobia among them - have been adoptmushrooming all over the conti-ing over the last ten years. In nent that is pushing some of the terms of numbers, the people affected by such laws as the Britter around a concept of Europe ish Nationality Act remain very small. Their importance is symbolic, pushing the notion that "aliens" do not belong, are unwelcome, and need serious con-

> So, as Europe moves towards some kind of integrated vision, what happens to these indoor colonials, who have at the moment (quite justifiably) no sense that it is their Europe, whose disenchantment and horror increases with time, whose children face more and not less racism. and who are not prepared to be the lowest of the low any more? Non-whites could indeed be a destructive force in the process of the "unification" of Europe. For a start, few of them could psychologically participate in the reconstruction of the myth of a superior whiteness and give it unconditional loyalty. Peregrine Worsthorne has already argued that their allegiance "may be with the enemies of the West, namely the Third World.

The New Right tries to deal with this in two ways. First, by talking unbashfully about the universal human need for "separate development" (a speech by the deputy Minister of Justice in the Netherlands put forward this apartheid ideology recently). Second, and if all else fails, by taking a severe assimilationist line to submerge "alienness". Successful black Thatcherites are already being sucked into the fast

Non-white citizens living in Europe are therefore already feeling uneasy about their future. and the ever popular sport taken up by the politicians and bureaucmuch to sap this arrogance, but rats of keeping out the Third only temporarily. But the hubris World, is unlikely to reassure is now reemerging, with a them that they are valued members of the community, or the speech at Bruges last year marks they could create a different vithis important reassertion. Finger sion for 1992, especially as the on the pulse as usual, she said: use of paranoia to achieve unity is

The messages ringing out are common experience. For inst- that more people from the Third ance, the story of how Europeans World are gathering - like verexplored and colonised and — min — at the hitherto vulnerable not require the human rights, freedom and democracy upon which Western Europe has been built. The Greeks used the same neat divisions. Civilised values applied to civilised people and not to those they defined as

Thus are two central but conflicting traditions sewn together. On the one hand, there is the Europe that has meant the hegemony of white people, the metaphor of whiteness, the whiteness that, as Franz Fanon says, burns you. On the other, there is an equally strong but admirable tradition of egalitarian universalism devoted to the preservation of human rights, a tradition that acquired real meaning after the defeat of facism. Agreement over these fundamental issues produced supranational treaties to protect these rights. Western Europe became the haven for those facing inhumane prosecution. That Europe no longer exists - at least not for undesirable intruders from the Third World. Of course there is still a lot of romance about fleeing Czech writers. This zeitgeist of intolerance is seeping all over the continent. In the European Parliament recently, a French MEP Michel Collinot said that family unification was "an incitement to the massive settlement of Third World populations on European soil." British MEP, Andrew Pearce, added: "We will find that parts of our member states become almost like foreign countries where we have foreign culture imposed on our society not merely adding to the variety of cul-tures in our community." An unpublished 1987 Runnymede Trust report on Belgium states: "Before,... discriminatory practices and the justification of discriminatory treatment were large-

doors of affluent Europe, and that being only vermin, they do

This is no longer the case." Even admitted into Britain — 0.24 per tries, including the US and Canadamitted into Britain — 0.24 per tries, including the US and Canadamitted into Britain — 0.24 per tries, including the US and Canadamitted into Britain — 0.24 per tries, including the US and Canadamitted into Britain — 0.24 per tries, including the US and Canadamitted into Britain — 0.24 per tries, including the US and Canadamitted into Britain — 0.24 per tries, including the US and Canadamitted into Britain — 0.24 per tries, including the US and Canadamitted into Britain — 0.24 per tries, including the US and Canadamitted into Britain — 0.24 per tries, including the US and Canadamitted into Britain — 0.24 per tries, including the US and Canadamitted into Britain — 0.24 per tries, including the US and Canadamitted into Britain — 0.24 per tries, including the US and Canadamitted into Britain — 0.24 per tries, including the US and Canadamitted into Britain — 0.24 per tries, including the US and Canadamitted into Britain — 0.24 per tries, including the US and Canadamitted into Britain — 0.24 per tries, including the US and Canadamitted into Britain — 0.24 per tries, including the US and Canadamitted into Britain — 0.24 per tries, including the US and Canadamitted into Britain — 0.24 per tries, including the US and Canadamitted into Britain — 0.24 per tries, including the US and Canadamitted into Britain — 0.24 per tries, including the US and Canadamitted into Britain — 0.24 per tries, including the US and Canadamitted into Britain — 0.24 per tries, including the US and Canadamitted into Britain — 0.24 per tries and tries in Denmark, the moral line is giving way to the tough line. The dilemma is that Europe still needs some of the labour of the Third World, particularly with the economic explosions going on all over the West and expected demographic changes in the near future. According to Professor Robin Cohen of Warwick University, these requirements are now carefully categorised according to changing economic needs.

The most privileged group are the citizens (people with permanent rights), followed by denizens (people with legal status of a temporary nature) and, at the bottom, the helots. undocumented workers with no rights. The situation for this group is likely to get much worse under the increased labour flexibility that will come about after

A further, and growing, category that is giving white Euro-peans paroxysms is the rise in the number of Third World refugees. The extreme prejudice towards these people most clearly and disturbingly exposes how ethnocentric, hardline, and un-principled White Europe is becoming. Philip Rudge, the General Secretary for European Consultation on Refugees and Exiles, has said: 'Traditionally, European human rights policy was developed in order to defend the rights of the weak, the vulnerable. Does the 1992 act now mean that we are now talking about a human rights policy that is guaranteeing the liberties of the strong, the powerful and the prosperous?'

This new definition is being cultivated against the back-cloth of an alarmist numbers game. Europe, in fact, takes in less than

be sustained by the facts. But refugee policy." The non-govbecause the scale and nature of ernmental agencies around the movement is so poorly under- Europe who work in the field stood, it has been possible to now fear that unless there is manipulate the issue and play on powerful lobbying, future compublic fears. been changed and moved. The right of appeal has been eroded terpreted in a much more narrow an anti-racst consortium. They way. Post-war European refugees were admitted on the basis that Europe enshrined in the symbolthey were victims of generalised prosecution. Now refugee status Philip Rudge prosecution. Now refugee status is being denied to those people from Sri Lanka who are making the same claims. In Community of the same claims in Community of the same claims in Community of the same claims. In Community of the same claims in the same claims. the same claims. In Germany the danger of having to anticipate torture in the country of origin does not constitute grounds for asvium.

Shifts to the extreme right in an influence. France's Le Pen is works. Van Steen of the Belgian National Front has been quoted slogans. The resonance is palp-

And if the present is bad, then the future could be even worse. That is because the European structure will be more powerful and capable of strong concerted action. There is already a dangerous connection being made at high levels between drug traffickers, criminals, terrorists, prostitutes, immigrants and refugees. 5 per cent of the total world The Trevi group consisting of article is reprinted from the Brit-refugee population. In 1986, for interior and justice ministers ish newspaper. The Guardian.

cent of the population. Sudan, a da, now meets regularly. A country of equivalent size, took Home Office spokesman admitin 1,164,000 refugees - 3.61 per ted that there had been Trevi cent of its total population. The discussions about border conmyth that there are millions of trols, "terrorists, immigrants, false refugees at the door cannot other undesirables and a common mon immigration and refugee In Britain, goal posts have policies will involve a levelling downwards towards the least liberal line. That is why the newly and interventions by MP's are formed network Migreurope was severely restricted. The 1951 established, bringing together Geneva Convention is being in-migrant and refugee groups and want to see a different new ness, and a reinforcement of that outdated European superior cul-ture," he says. Others, like Bhiku Parekh of the Commission of Racial Equality see the future more optimistically, if only beinternal politics are also exerting cause the past has been so bad. Last June, a European Commisthe obvious example. There is sion resolution recognised this also a growth in new fascist net- change, by stating that the fight against racism and xenophobia was at the centre of the search for saying he wants a "Free White a new European identity as the Europe". The unthinkable is community moves towards insoon turned into vote-catching tegration. Actions have not so far matched up to these ideals. This will be the real challenge of the 1992 act. As Philip Rudge puts it, The acid test is going to be whether this is something internationalist and bigger than its composite parts - or whether it is an cumulation of chauvinisms.

> Yasmin Alibhai is editor of the New Statesman and Society's race and society supplement. This

South Sudan faces new threat of famine

By Hamza Hendawi Reuter

KHARTOUM - Famine that killed tens of thousands in south Sudan last year could strike again succeeded, said foreign diplomats and relief officials here. They said a new cycle of death from starvation and disease had begun in some areas, while in others people might be preparing to leave their villages in search of

"Even an immediate ceasefire escalate following a parliament SPLA and the government. I not be the end of the probsaid Christopher Carr, chief administrator in Sudan of the French charity Medecins Sans

'Most of the roads are mined

bandits looking for loot almost everywhere," he said. the ruling coalition in protest and the SPLA rejected the plan.

At least three million Sudanese have fled their homes to avoid the five-year old war. Together with flooding and drought, famine has even if efforts to end a civil war racked the mainly subsistence farming region.
Rèlief officials in Khartoum

said that without an immediate ceasefire they would not be able to send enough food to the south before rains due in March cut the

Diplomats said the war might veto last month agreed in November by rebel leader John Garang and the Democratic Unionist Party

Parliament adopted another said.

Press reports in Khartoum this month have said 15 people were dying of hunger in Malakal every Tens of thousands died in the south last year and relief officials say many others may have perished in remote war-torn re-The ICRC began relief operations on December 4 after nearly a year of laborious negotiations won approval from both the jealousies and in some cases inefficiency among donor countries Aweil. and relief organisations are likely to hinder their efforts, diplomats relief official seconded to the government's relief and rehabilitation commission.

Private relief agencies say donated food often finds its way to the black market or the tables of people who do not need it. Some relief officials are concerned that an airlift by the U.N.

Development Programme UNDP) to the southern town of Aweil has not been approved by The SPLA has threatened in the past to shoot down planes has approved an ICRC airlift to

"If the rebels shoot down the UNDP plane, the ICRC opera-tion will certainly go down with by the (Sudan People's Libera-tion Army) rebels and there are Sadeq Al Mahdi. The DUP quit pure and simple," said a foreign relief operation in Khartoum.

West Germans protest at rightist party

By Mark Heinrich

BONN --- West Germany's postal service is under fire for delivering the message of an extreme rightist fringe party to 24 million

Offended citizens have abused mailmen and deluged post offices by returning unwanted letters from the Deutsche Volksunion (DVU), or German People's Union, that have turned up in post boxes in recent days.

The DVU mailing contains a form letter addressed to 'Dear citizens' from Gerhard Frey, the party's chairman and a wealthy publisher, urging them to back its candidates for the European Parliament elections in June.

Frey charges that West German interests are being sacrificed to the European Community and rails against the cost and social pressures of accommodating "a foreigner influx.'.

'Some postmen (delivering the letters) have been called Nazi swine', especially in areas where mainly foreigners live," said Wolfgang Schmidt, postal spokesman in Duesseldorf.

'We're getting many hundreds of phone calls from people complaining about the mailing. The outrage in the population is palpable," said Hans Martens of the post office in Hamburg.

million marks ($1.72 million) from the DVU's direct-mail been eclipsed by the uproar over expansion of the EC? the message.

ne message. The mailing also includes a Post and telecommunications subscription form for Frey's three ministry lawyers checked the newspapers, including the Deuts-DVU's mailing beforehand but che National-Zeitung. found no cause to refuse delivery because the party was not advocating anything illegal.

"That does not mean we agree with the contents. But we cannot act as censors. Our regulations are based on law, not politics," spokeswoman Barbara Schagen told Reuters.

However, the postal service is now re-examining its rules to determine whether such mailings could be prevented in future. Post Minister Christian Schwarz-Schilling told parliament on January 18.

Schagen said that while the DVU material benefited from the looser rules for mailed advertising because it was addressed to no one by name, it was sent in a sealed envelope "giving the impression of a letter with a personal character."

Postal union officials and a wide spectrum of politicians have bemoaned the use of the mail to spread the message.

Enclosed in the letter is an opinion survey that is to be returned, along with a donation, to party headquarters in Munich. The poll, with "yes" or "no" answers to be checked off, poses such questions as:

Should "pseudo-asylum seekers and foreign criminals" be expelled? Should German jobseekers be preferred over foreigners? Should foreigners be res-

Should EC membership for The postal service made 3.2 Turkey and access for more millions of Turks to Germany be rejected? Should reunification of drive, but the financial gain has. Germany take precedence over

> "First Germany - then Europe" is the DVU's slogan. nar devaluation. Many people in The party was founded in 1987. Jordan are aware of the huge

Burma faces uncertain future

TAUNGGYI, Burma — At a news conference intended to convince foreign journalists that Burma's military junta was dealing magnanimously with dissidents, a student leader suddenly challenged an army officer. It was not true, shouted Myo

By Denis D. Gray The Associated Press

Win Htun, that students attacked troops in Taunggyi during last year's pro-democracy demonstrations as the officer claimed. It was the army that fired into crowds, killing students in their early teens, he asserted amid applause from his colleagues.

This outburst appeared to reflect what many Burmese say is a defiant mood and a widespread smoldering hatred of Burma's powerful military, which had turned its guns on students, Buddhist monks and others agitating for an end to 26 years of authoritarian rule.

The deep rift in Burmese society, with its potential for renewed violence, is but one of a host of problems facing this impoverished nation now shunned by the international community.

plex. The future is bleak and uncertain," said one Burmese Although the military crushed

"The current situation is com-

the uprising last September, it has promised general elections and allowed more than 180 political parties to register. It has also attempted to woo the population by sweeping streets. whitewashing pagodas and providing basic commodities to the poor at special stores.

Many Burmese have reacted to such moves with derision and are watching the powerholders for signs of meaningful change. "If they are no elections, we will demonstrate again," student Aung Myint Soe told reporters in the town of Loikaw. "We have not given up the struggle for Such critical statements, made in the presence of officials during a recent three-day visit by 46 foreign journalists, would have been unthinkable prior to the upheaval. Possibly fearful of another revolt, the military rulers are allowing more freedom of expression than in the days of retired strongman Ne Win.

Although clearly designed to improve Rangoon's greatly tarnished human rights image, the visit by journalists also was unprecedented in a country that had ters and seemed to care little for campaign against one of the outside opinion.

businessmen, investors. And of course journalists must come," said one official accompanying the press trip. However, the new leaders stress that change must come slowly and view the brutal repression last year as the military elite exercising its rightful role in saving the country from "unpatriotic and destructive elements."

"Every country controls mobs. And if they refuse to act according to the law, you shoot them,' said one senior military officer. Four months after the coup by

Gen. Saw Maung and the establishment of a state law and order restoration council, a curfew remains in force along with a ban on public gatherings and tight control over mass media. With the exception of nursery schools, the country's educational system has been closed down for more than a year.

Saw Maung has spurned calls for dialogue by opposition party leaders and rejected one of their major platforms — reconciliation with a dozen ethnic minority insurgent groups that have been battling the government for decades. Instead, the Rangoon virtually barred all foreign repor-military has mounted a major strongest rebel groups, the Karen "We are moving toward an National Union, and is using up tion.

open society. We need foreign what little foreign currency it earns from the sale of teak and fish to buy guns and bullets.

Burma's long-suffering economy plummeted last year in the wake of massive destruction of state factories and infrastructure and an aid boycott by an international community outraged by human rights abuses. A number of Western analysts say a further deterioration of living standards could reignite protest as surely as negation of political freedoms.

"An economic revival under current conditions is almost impossible. The economy just manages to keep breathing," says one knowledgeable Burmese.

The flow of funds from Japan. West Germany, the United States and other past aid donors which totalled as much as $500 million in some past years - has ceased, and a number of development projects are frozen. Washington, Tokyo and the European Economic Community continue to show their displeasure with Saw Maung: the ambassadors of those nations were all absent from Burma's Independence Day celebrations Jan. 4.

Most major industrial enterprises remain closed and private foreign investors are reluctant to enter a politically volatile situa-

LETTERS:

Stop the greedy

Letter to the Editor

AFTER reading the Jordan Times interview with Minister of Health Zuhair Malhas, which appeared on Jan. 23, I could not help but worry about the future of the prices of imported drugs. It is evident that imported drugs are ridiculously expensive, notwithstanding the Jordanian di-imported medicine, often from thardworking citizens who can barely feed their families. And for importers to demand another price increase is going too far.

A minority of us may be able to afford a huge monthly budget for medication and baby products, but I cannot help but wonder how in the world the majority of profits made by the agents of in good condition. If prices of imported drugs are going to be increased, I can see a major health crisis in the country, while the agents will only become healthier and fatter,

Many of us hope that the Ministry of Health would not give in to the greed of imported drug agents and think of the consumer, and therefore, the majority of citizens can afford to keep their citizens' interest. And if the health and their children's health agents feel they have so much control and power over the country, then the government should disprove this theory immediately.

If it is possible for the Ministry of Health to import directly from the foreign manufacturers, at lower prices, then, why not? This can only be a great service to citizens. We are, after all, talking about the most important aspect of human life: health.

In Africa between 60-80 per cent of the population are bound to be effected by malaria

Drug-resistant malaria spreading in Africa

By Robert Mahoney
Reuter

ABIDJAN — When the sun sets in Africa young children face death. Dusk brings the anopheles mosquito, bearer of one of the world's biggest child-killers.

malaria. The disease, which produces raging fevers and bone-jarring chills is on the rise, killing three million people a year and resisting the drugs used to fight it. Half the planet's five billion inhabitants live in malarial zones and 20 million travellers a year pass through them.

Researchers are working on a vaccine but many specialists think even if it proved effective it would be too expensive to help the Third World. Malana's impact is hardest on Africa where climate, poverty, had sanitation and ignorance provide an ideal breeding ground. The painless bite of the bloodsucking mosquito kills more than one million African children annually, according to the World Health Organisation (WHO). Of the 300 million people a year in the world's tropical and sub-tropical zones who catch malaria for the first time. 90 per cent are African. The line-up any morning at Abidjan's Treichville hospital is evidence enough. Young and old sit sweating or shivering, waiting for handful of pills or better still a shot of quinine. One mother hums to her three-year-old son who wails with a 40-degree-centigrade fever. Like millions of other children the boy has never

Drugs will save his life this time before the fever reaches his brain. But they will not stop him

been given anti-malaria tablets

and sleeps without a mosquito being reinfected. Sanitary conditions in Africa are bad," said Dr. Christian Voumard, a regional adviser for the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF). Mosquitoes lay their eggs in stagnant water below 1,800 metres in anything from a carelessly discarded tin can to a lake. The mature female injects parasites into humans which incubate in the liver and then infest the blood causing the red corpuscles to burst. Malaria means "bad air" in falian. People once blamed the gases rather than the insects from the marshes where they lived for

"For us it is a question of ers? The old standby is quinine. primary health care... teaching known since the 16th century for people about the disease, how to avoid it and how to use antimalarial drugs properly.

oumard said. That is an enormous task. according to malaria experts interviewed during an international conference in Abidjan this

For 20 years WHO thought it could wipe out malaria by spraying with insecticides, notably DDT, explained WHO west Africa director Dr. Pie Masum-

Ten years ago it admitted defeat as the mosquitoes grew resistant to chemicals such as DDT which themselves had been condemned as dangerous to humans. Realising it could do little to prevent people being bitten. dving of the bites, Masumbuko

Front line drug

The front line drug was Chloroquine, a cheap tablet-form medi-cine first used during World War II. It took just 15 years for the mosquitoes to grow resistant to it. first in Vietnam then in the whole of South-East Asia and India. Resistance also developed in North-East Brazil and Colombia, and finally surfaced in Africa along the East Coast.

"Chloroquine resistance is spreading to West Africa which until new had been spared," Masumbuko said.

It is creeping clockwise through sub-Saharan Africa — south through Kenya, Tanzania and Zambia, then north through Zaire, the Congo, Cameroon and the Central African Republic.

Professor Dominique Richard-Lenoble of Libreville University in Gabon said up to 30 per cent of cases there were now Chloroquine resistant.

Chloroquine is virtually useless now in large areas of South-East Asia and South America and the drug that replaced it in the early 1970s. Fansidar, is going the same

"It took between 10 and 15 years for resistance to overtake Chloroquine and Fansidar in South-East Asia," said Professor Herve Maisonneuve of Lyon,

"But there only about five per cent of the population get malaria, in Africa it's between 60 and 80 per cent."

Hope?

What hope is there for suffer-

Detecting gas, the Finnish way

By Nigel Stephenson Reuter

HELSINKI — A unique Finnish research laboratory has developed techniques to sniff out minute traces of deadly chemical weapons in the atmosphere.

Now the Finnish government has offered its resources and expertise to the world as a contribution to international efforts aimed at banning chemical weapons.

"We feel that if there is any banned agent in any sample, we can detect it," said Marjatta Rautio, director of the Finnish project on the verification of chemical weapons.

Rautio, who will attend the talks in Geneva on technical aspects of a future treaty which resume on Tuesday, says the project is the world's only civilian laboratory devoted entirely to chemical arms verification.

For 15 years, it has amassed data on 200 banned chemicals, seeking ways of detecting and analysing the tell-tale signs that nerve gases and other compounds leave in air, soil and water.

Finnish officials say the pioneering work of the Helsinkibased project is winning international support which could bring a comprehensive ban closer.

At the recent Paris chemical arms conference, Finnish Foreign Minister Kalevi Sorsa offered the project's facilities for some of the crucial analytical tasks which would follow the signing of a convention.

its anti-malarial properties. But it is usually given to cure rather than prevent the sickness, often in the form of injections or an

This is fine in a modern hospital but in rural areas patients often get insufficient doses, badly

administered so the disease roars

A couple of bright spots on the horizon, however, have come from the Walter Reed Army Institute of Research in Washington. Its discoveries have led to two new drugs — Mefloquine and Halofantrine, both in tablet form.

long enough to be useful as a preventative for Westerners and others travelling to Chloroquine-

they are too costly for most Africans." Doctors also concede that at least one of the four forms of malaria parasite will eventually develop a resistance to these drugs.

That is why they are so anxious to ensure their proper prescrip-tion. Indiscriminate use of Chlor-

So what is the experts' advice? For travellers to Chloroquineresistant areas-take Mefloquine,

to other areas take Chloroquine

and another drug such as Paludwith the disease each day? The best advice they had was "don't

And for the millions who live resistant areas.

to the drug.

ing a malaria attack.

Mefloquine stays in the body

back with a vengeance, doctors

He also told the conference, called to bolster the flagging 1925 protocol banning the use of chemical weapons in war, that the project would train chemists from developing countries in verification techniques free of charge

"We hope that our offer will, in a tangible way, stimulate interest in the future convention," Sorsa

Since September, the unit, which is a joint effort of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Helsinki University, has also been on a United Nations list of experts which could be sent to a battlefield where use of chemical weapons was suspected. We have the gas masks and the suits," said Rautio.

As a civilian unit, the project is free to publish its findings and it has already produced 13 volumes on its work. The team of eight funded by the ministry and three universityfunded assistants has been able to trace minute quantities of chemicals far from where they were released. Rautio said a millionth part of one millionth of a gram of a banned agent could be detected.

In one test, 10 kilogrammes of a harmless substance which simulates sarin, a nerve agent stockpiled by both superpowers, were released into the air over central Finland. Using aircraft and ground sensors, they found traces 200 km away. In another, 10 miligrammes of sarin and of another agent, soman, were placed on an island off Helsinki. Despite spring sea breezes, the team found traces of sarin in air samples a week later and of soman after a fortnight. Rautio said small amounts of an agent could be produced without direction but this would not pose a threat.

'The danger is if some facility could produce militarily-significant amounts of agent and there I hope we could detect them," she

She believes it would also be possible to ascertain from samples whether a factory had ever produced chemical weapons and been cleaned up and converted to

The story of Mohammad Gul

NEW DELHI - Drawing himself up to his full height, Gul Mohammad vehemently insists that, at 63 centimetres, he is the world's shortest man. He is scornful of the claim that in the Caribis someone who is eight cm. taller.

Far more than simple pride is Halofantrine, which is so new it involved in deciding to whom the has been approved for sale only unique distinction — and a place in France and four African counin the record books — belongs. tries, is for those already suffer-For 32-year-old Mohammad is convinced that the undisputed "These are good alternatives," said UNICEF's Voumard, "but title could lead to a complete change in his lifestyle.

Then he is certain that he would no longer be earning the pittance of less than five rupees a day selling homemade sweets in back streets of the walled city of old Delhi. As a celebrity, he is sure that he could even break into India's busy film industry.

The publicity surrounding the oquine helped hasten resistance disputed accolade has already brought Mohammad a taste of fame. Referring to his appearances on radio and television, he said: "Previously, no one even asked my name — and now they want interviews."

He has also been officially entertained by the mayor of New Delhi, while there have been a house. One benefit from this is metres - Lion features.

that the local roadsweepers have become particularly diligent. Mohammad was a normal sized baby, but soon stopped growing.

Doctors were consulted and eventually they made it clear that bean's Dominican Republic there the child would not grow any The boy has to give up his schooling because fellow-pupils made fun to him. And life has been no easier for the adult Mohammad. At home he is carried up the stairs on other people's shoulders, and his hands are so tiny that an aunt has to bathe him and comb his hair. Moreover, viewed from a height of about 60 cm, the world can have so many additional problems and dangers. Mohammad admits to being scared of dogs, cats and crows because they harass him when he is eating alone in the open. According to the latest record books, the world's shortest man is 30-year-old Nelson de la Rosa, of the Dominican Republic, who is 72 cms tall. But if Gul Mohammad has his way, these books will have to be revised. At the other end of the scale. the title of being the world's tallest man is held by a 44-yearold Mozambican, Gabriel Estanumber of important callers at his vao Monjane. He measures 2.52

Chekhov: "Intersecting hopes, angers and frustrations..."

Precisely, Mr. Chekhov

By Michael Kustow

Chekhov: A Spirit Set Free, by V.S. Pritchett (Hodders and Stoughton £12.95)

"YOU confuse two things," Chekhov wrote to his publisher, Suvorin, "solving a problem and stating a problem correctly. It is only the second that is obligatory for the artist." Chekhov's way of stating a problem correctly involved creating works that have an almost musical sense of time, the precision of a film-editor and a refusal to linger over a situation or milk an emotion.

Both in his biography and in the shapes of his fiction he is famously elusive and reserved. This lightness, dealing with weighty matters, is his liberty. It is a balance painstakingly achieved, as he develops from his early vaudevilles to the polyphony of his late stories, and of Three Sisters and The Cherry Orchard.

Many writers today make Chekhov an emblem, Seamus Heaney, in his recent essay-collection The Government of the Tongue, depicts Chekhov the citizen, the serf's grandson, choosing to confront the cruelty and backwardness of his country, yet staying true to the freedoms and delight of art.

A bottle of champagne called for on Chekhov's deathbed features in the last year by Raymond a doc Carver, who had much of cine. Chekhov's glancing penetration. Carver's story ends with a closeup of the young waiter who is sent by Chekhov's wife to fetch the undertaker. Her instructions are a metaphor of the spell Chekhov casts over writers and readers:

he were engaged on a very important errand, nothing more. And if it would help to keep his movements purposeful he should imagine himself as someone moving down the busy sidewalk carrying in his arms a porcelain vase of roses that he had to deliver to an important man.

This balance of grace and pur-posefulness is what V.S. Pritchett, himself a deft dancer down sidewalks of literature, seeks catch and communicate. A Spirit Set Free is a book pared to the core, whispered notations of a seasoned fellow-writer. And it taining that they add up to a evolve from contemplating an richer yield and wider range than the better-known plays. Pritchett interleaves biography and close reading to trace Chekhov's ripening as a man and an artist. He quotes Chekhov's proud self-definition, so full of the labour of someone turning himself inside out like a glove: "this young man who squeezes the slave out of himself, and who, one fine morning, finds that the blood coursing through his veins is that of a real human being." He relates that hard-won transformation to the facts of Chekhov's life: his harsh grocer father, his dependent brothers, his assumption of responsibility for the whole family, his concern as a landowner, health officer, builder of schools, his conscientiousness as a doctor when he practised medi-

'Medicine is my lawful wife, literature my mistress, and there is no discipline in me," he said. Yet there was, and he was far from being the saintly, poignant figure relished by sentimental Chekhov-lovers: he got his sister

"He was to behave exactly as if to serve his domestic needs, and ruined her marriage chances. And whether from deep shyness or the emotional volatility that came from his tuberculosis, or from what Pritchett calls his low sexual temperature, he kept various women in emotional thrall until he married Olga Knipper.

JORDAN TIMES, SATURDAY JANUARY 28, 1989 5

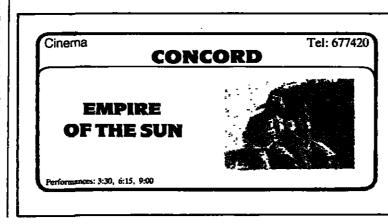

Pritchett traces the way Chekhov distanced himself from Dostoevsky's "shrillness", Tolstoy's moralism and the neatness of Maupassant. As reserved as his protagonist, Pritchett rarely ventures generalisations about these stories, except to murmur that "good stories do not come concentrates on the stories, main- straight from real experience, but essence of it."
Chekhov distilled this essence from a mosaic of tiny details, collected with apparent effortlessness, which glint from the surface of everything he wrote; like this disagreeable husband, "a handsome and rather arrogant person, who liked lighting cigarettes from icon-lamps and who was a habitual whistler." Pritchett collects fine details about Chekhov: his sensitivity to sounds, his loose-woven endings, with life's indifferent continuity seeping through.

The stories are more muted in their passion than the plays, but in both. Chekhov's characters are potentially full-hearted people stifled and sapped in a lethargic

Pritchett brings out well the web of intersecting hopes, angers and frustrations, the catscradle of cross-purposes, and the steady tide of time which, more than the fate of any single character, add up to an enduring state of the soul we call Chekhovian - The Guar-

For all your:

Packing, Air Freight Forwarding, Customs Clearance. Door-to-door Service. Ticketing and Reservation needs,

please call: AMIN KAWAR & SONS

Abdel Hamid Sharaf Street P.O. Box 7806 Amman, Jordan Tel. 614676, 604696

Let Aramex Air Cargo take care of the works, Door to Door. Call the friendly professionals on 660507 or 660508 ARAMEX AS CARGO

The first & best Chinese Restaurant in Jordan 1st Circle, Jabal Amman, near

Ahlıyyah Gıris School Take away is available Open daily 12:00-3:30

6:30-Midnight

Tel. 638968

慕堂餐廳 MANDARIN Chinese Restaurant

The only typical Chinese cuisine in Amman. Chinese Flaming pot is available Take away available Open daily 12:00 - 15-30 18:00 - 23:30

> Bridge Amman, Jordan Tel: 661922

Wadı Saqra Road - near Traffic

CHEN'S CHINESE RESTAURANT Mecca Street, Yarmouk

Engineers' Housing Estate, near Kilo Supermarket Mongolian Barbeque for Lunch Friday only Tel: 818214 Come and taste our specialities Open daily 12:00 - 3:30 p.m. 6:30 - Midnight

CHINESE RESTAURANT TAIWAN TOURISMO Authentic Chinese Food

Korean Bar-B-Q Charcoal Flaming Pot

Open daily Noon - 3:30 р.т. & 6:30 p.m. - midnight Location: Near 3rd Circle opposite Akilah Hospital

Open Daily 12.30-3.30 pm After the Holiday Inn hotel Tel: 641093

Towards 3rd circle

Tel:659519 659520

Kashmir

FIRST CLASS INDIAN

RESTAURANT

Special Executive Luncheons

Take away service

available

7.30-f1.30 pm

Bush warns central bank chief not to hinder economic growth

WASHINGTON (Agencies) - President Bush, reacting to tough anti-inflation comments by Federal Reserve (Fed) Chairman Alan Greenspan, said Thursday he did not want the U.S. central bank to tame inflation at the expense of economic growth.

"I don't want to see us move so those assumptions in the budget strongly against fear of inflation that we impede growth," Bush told reporters.

Greenspan told Congress Wednesday that the Fed would keep a tight grip on credit because inflation was already too high and could rise even faster unless the economy slowed down. The warning shot across the Fed's bows could set the stage for a battle of wills between Bush and Greenspan. Although the Fed is independent of the administration, its chairman in practice strives to avoid conflict with the White House. In contrast to the optimistic growth forecasts that Bush is likely to adopt for his budget plan, the Fed chairman said the longterm growth potential of the economy was no more than 2.5 to three per cent a year. If the economy grew any faster. inflation would accelerate because factories were already working flat out and labour was scarce, he said.

By contrast, the fiscal 1990 budget plan submitted two weeks ago by former president Reagan assumed the economy would expand by 3.5 per cent in 1989 and 3.4 per cent in 1990. It projected growth of 3.2 per cent from 1991

Budget Director Richard Dar- of President Bush has asked Conman has said Bush would stick to gress to change U.S. trade rules clared to be in violation of an agreement with other trading countries.

"If we want other nations to eliminate... illegal trade barriers when we win before a panel, we must be equally prepared to change our actions and policies when we lose," said Judith Bello. plan he is expected to submit by mid-February. Darman and Bush general counsel to the U.S. trade are counting on swelling tax rerepresentative. venues from a strong economy to

She was testifying before the International Trade Subcommittee of the Ways and Means Committee in the House of Repre-"We must show we're not a scofflaw (habitual breaker of bons agreed.

He is chairman of the subcommittee and a major force in U.S. trade policy.

The accord is the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT), which has nearly 100 vernments as members. The GATT organisation sponsors the "Uruguay Round" negotiations in which the U.S. government has been trying unsuccessfully for a long-term agreement on ending subsidies to farmers. These subsidies cost consumers and taxpayers tens of billions of dollars a

Bello said the rules she wants changed are more important than they seem because there are widespread doubts about U.S. intentions among other nego-

At issue was a tax on imports of petroleum and some petroleum products passed by Congress in 1986 to help finance a "superthat international panels have deford fund" for cleaning up toxic waste The tax on imported products was 11.7 U.S. cents a barrel, 3.5 cents more than the tax on U.S. production of the same items. A barrel contains 42 gallons (160

> In June 1987, an international panel ruled that the difference was a discrimination against other countries that violated GATT. Other governments threatened to retaliate against the United States. To avoid that, Reagan's administration offered to negotiate compensation with the countries affected.

There have been talks with Canada, Mexico and the 12 counlaws)," Congressman Sam Gib- tries represented by the European Community (ÉC), but no conclusion has been reached.

The EC estimates that the tax cost its member countries $26.6 million a year.

Bello said it would be preferable to get rid of the differential. Also at issue is a "user fee" for the services of the U.S. customs, based no the value of products imported. Another international panel ruled that also to be a violation of the accord, which says such fees should be based on actual cost to the customs service. According to Ella Krucoff, press officer for the EC in Washington, EC members paid $22.2 million in such fees in 1987. "The U.S. fee must be revised to tie it more closely to the actual cost of processing particular entries," Bello said. The "user fee" programme brought in $787 million last year, according to Harry Carnes, director of the U.S. customs servicer user fee task force.

Chinese scholar assails high corruption

among party and government storm after being published in a officials in China is at its worst Shanghai weekly, enraging the control without radical changes in partment. the system, one of the country's top Marxists has said.

In an interview, Su Shaozhi. former head of the Institute of Marxism-Leninism-Mao Tsetung Thought at the elite China Academy of Social Sciences, said corruption permeated all levels of government.

"There is too much concentration of power, no democracy and no real supervision of govern-ment officials," he said. "What Lord Acton said applies — power corrupts, absolute power corrupts

A speech by Su last month in which he attacked the party's

PEKING (R) — Corruption ideological policies provoked a level in 40 years and is hard to party's powerful propaganda de-

reduce the deficit without raising only a summary of Greenspan's

comments, was not specific about his expectations for the economy

but commented: "We have to keep expanding opportunity for the working men and women of Greenspan's deputy, Fed Vice-

Chairman Manuel Johnson, said

earlier Wednesday that the Fed was not determined at all costs to slow growth down to the 2.5 per more than three per cent in 1988.

setting aside the impact of the Johnson told a conference

organised by Citizens for a Sound

Economy that the Fed did not have a hard growth target because no one knew exactly how fast the economy could expand

Bush administration asks

Congress to end trade

violations

Meanwhile, the administration

without igniting inflation.

The economy expanded by this country.

Bush, who said he had been

In the last ideological campaign, against "bourgeois liberal-ism" in 1987, Su, 66, lost his post as head of the institute but remains a professor at the academy and a prolific writer.

In his study, volume of Lenin's collected works in Chinese stand next to an English transcript of Abraham Lincoln's speech at Gettysburg in 1893, in which he "government of the advocated people for the people by the boomed since 1985, with increasing decentralisation of the economy and the "double track" system under which there are two prices for the same commodity, one a low state price and a much higher free market price.

Su said many price increases were a result of abuse of the two-track system by officials with access to cheap state-supplied goods. The officials then resell the goods on the free market, he Su said that while Peking wanted to stop corruption it was difficult because of the web of mutual interests and lack of independence of supervisory bodies. "The party needs to democrause itself but has done little of it. To beat corruption, we need a Corruption in China has free press, freedom of opinion and investigative bodies that are independent," he said. The press publishes stories everyday of corruption and misuse of power by officials.

These are only the flies," Su said. "Who dares to touch the tiger's bottom?" - a reference to high officials.

Haughey's minority government has subjected the Irish to two years of massive state spending The media is not allowed to cuts in a bid to trim the country's write about corruption of officials mountainous 25 billion punt ($38 above a certain rank without billion) national debt.

approval from Peking," he noted. Public deception

He said socialists did not fully trust their people and constantly told them things were going well when they were not.

"They should tell the people that there is a price to pay to achieve reform and persuade them to overcome the difficulties together," he emphasised.

He told the news conference

that if the proposed measures were implemented by 1995, the Soviet people could expect the Kremlin chief's "perestroika" to have improved their living stan-

been mounting complaints from ordinary people voiced in the Soviet press that life was becoming harder, with shortages of many food products, household and consumer goods.

Gorbachev has himself described the situation in the eco-

Over the past year, there have

Soviet economist puts deficit at $161b leader Mikhail Gorbachev, has indicated that the country's budget deficit amounted to 20 per cent of all government spending. Leonid Abalkin, director of the

MOSCOW (R) — A top Kremlin economic adviser, giving a new slant on problems facing Soviet Moscow Economics Institute, scientifically speaking, our deficit is 100 billion roubles," said Abal-kin, who is known to have Gor-king would be adopted ($161 billion) when credits from state-run banks were included.

"In the whole world, bank borrowings are considered a means of covering budget deficits. So,

VILLA FOR SALE/RENT

Next to Korean embassy, garden 2,300m, big swimming pool-heated chalet in garden (two rooms). Villa's total area is 486m.

Call tel: 810807 or 810137

bachev's confidence.

He made his remarks to foreign journalists after a news conference during which he described the deficit as "colossal" but argued that it could be wiped out within three years by strict financial policies.

He said his institute had presented a recovery plan to Prime Minister Nikolai Ryzhkov including cuts in defence costs - an area where Gorbachev has already moved to reduce spending — and a drop in state sub-sidies to industry and farming.

"The plan needs to be implemented promptly, and be in

> MANY VILLAS AND APARTMENTS FOR

> > Furnished or Unfurnished

In Shmeisani, Sweifieh. Abdoun and many other locations.

For more information please call Wael Real Estate at 685342

nomy as critical, arguing that the present leadership is struggling with a legacy from predecessors who allowed the deficit to develop without revealing its exist-At the annual budget session of the Supreme Soviet or parliament last November, Finance Minister RENT entirely.

Boris Gostev set the "shortfall in financial resources" under the 1989 budget at 36 billion roubles

($58 billion).

He later referred to this figure as the deficit, but also said government borrowings totalled 63.4 billion roubles ($102 billion).

Abalkin said the two figures added made up the real deficit.

The Supreme Soviet, adjusting Gostev's figures, cut the final budgeted deficit to 35 billion roubles ($56 billion).

FOR SALE CARS FROM GERMANY

Mercedes 1984 automatic with full options (colour - white) 2. Mercedes 1983 with full options (colour - blue mettalic)

For more information, pls. contact Tel: $22067 (cars not cleared from customs)

FOR RENT Super Deluxe Furnished Villas

The first comprising three bedrooms, three bathrooms, spacious salons, with all utilities and surrounded by a garden with grown-up flowers. The second villa consists of five bedrooms, spacious salons, with all utilities, and surrounded by a garden with grown-up For information please call 846896

Location: Opposite the entrance of the University of Jordan Hospital.

Analysts expect prices of oil to stabilise near $15 a barrel

crude oil prices will stabilise around $15 a barrel for the next two months, but weaken in the second quarter unless oil producers coperate to control output, industry analysts said.

Prices plummeted by 75 cents after talks between experts from OPEC (Organisation of Petroleum Exporting Countries) and non-OPEC oil producing nations Thursday failed to result in specific proposals for output cuts.

OPEC and non-OPEC oil ministers will meet at an unspecified later date, OPEC Secretary-General Subroto said after the joint experts meeting.

"The market expected something more, therefore they were disappointed," said Yasuhiko Tashiro chief economist for the Idemitsu oil company.

The benchmark Mideast, from Dubai, dropped to around $14.25 for March loading cargoes on the freely traded Far Eastern market Friday, from $15 in late trading Thursday.

"Today the market's a bit soft but I expect a small recovery," said a trader for a major interna-

ter Albert Reynolds has cut Irish income tax for the first time in most heavily taxed nations in

In a budget that gave the Irish

some cause to cheer after two anstere years of belt-tightening,

Reynolds cut the basic rate from 35 to 32 per cent. The top rate went down from 58 to 56 per

Prime Minister Charles

"We have emerged from the last two years leaner but fitter

for the challenges ahead."

Reynolds told a packed parliament at the end of his 90-minute

The income tax cuts offered

new record

TOKYO (AP) — Japanese automakers built a record 12.7 million

cars, trucks and buses in 1988, up

3.7 per cent from the previous year, the Japan Automobile Manufacturers' Association has

The previous record, 12.3 mil-

Exports fell to 6.1 million vehicles, down 200,000 from 1987,

but domestic sales shot up 11 per cent to 6.7 million as a result of Japan's steady economic growth and a willingness by its consumers to spend more, the association

Total passenger car production

last year increased 3.9 per cent to million trucks, up 3.2 per cent, and 57,000 buses, up 14.9 per cent, were built, it added.

climbed 13.5 per cent to a record 3.7 million, while truck sales rose

9.5 per cent to a record three million, the association's state-

bathrooms and patio.

Domestic passenger sales

a record 8.2 million, while 4.4

lion vehicles, was set in 1985.

Japanese auto

production hits

more than 20 years for one of the slightly.

"The first-quarter cargo market will continue around $15, but unless OPEC and non-OPEC producers take further action we forecast there will be a sluggish market in the second quarter," he

Oil prices have gained about $4 a barrel since November when OPEC ministers agreed to cut output by 20 per cent in the first half of 1989.

Total production is estimated to have dropped to around 19 million barrels per day (b/d) from nearly 23 million in December.

But traders said OPEC needs the cooperation of non-OPEC producers to reduce output still further in the second quarter when demand is seasonally lower. They said a $2 drop in prices was likely unless production is cut after the northern hemisphere U.S. states of Texas and Alaska. winter demand season ends. OPEC production of 19 million

gage tax relief was trimmed and taxes on drink and cigarettes rose

After hefty pre-budget campaigning by church leaders and community workers, Reynolds

also launched a war on want to long-term unemployment went up 12 per cent. He took 24,000

people out of the tax net

altogether and handed out 20 million punts ($30 million) in tax allowances to lower income fami-

embarked on the road to economic recovery, he forecast a three per cent growth in gross national product for 1989 compared to 1.5

He also forecast that inflation

would not climb above 2.75 per cent from its present year-on-year

An association official added

that recent monthly figures

showed some increase in vehicle

exports. In November, Japanese companies produced 500,000 cars for export, up 4.2 per cent from November 1987, and December production would show an estiflated three per cent increase from a year earlier, said the official, speaking on condition of anonymity. December production figures were not yet avail-

tics showed that Japan exported

2.21 million cars to the United

last March 31.

being.

DELUXE FURNISHED FLAT FOR RENT

SPORTS CITY

A flat, with American accommodation and fully electric equipment, contains three bedrooms, two baths, salon, Piease call tel.: 814536 after 1 p.m.

FULLY FURNISHED APARTMENT

FOR RENT

Consisting of 2 bedrooms, reception area (2 rooms), kitchen, 3 dining room, kitchen, telephone and video.

States in fiscal 1987, which ended

The government said Jan. 10

that it would continue limiting car

exports to the United States to

2.3 million a year for the time

1981, when it was under strong pressure from the U.S. government and American automakers

to reduce Japanese inroads into the U.S. auto market.

Japan first agreed to limits in

Meanwhile. government statisper cent last year.

figure of -2.1 per cent.

With Ireland cautiously

Social welfare payments for the help the poor in Ireland.

b/d in the second quarter will lead to a 500,000 to one million b/d build up in world stocks, said Masaru Kai, a deputy general manager at Nippon oil company.

Irish government

DUBLIN (R) - Finance Minis- good news to the Irish. But mort-

cuts income tax

Kai predicted Mideast oil prices would average $15 to $16 a barrel in the first quarter, but fall to $13 to $14 in the second quarter if OPEC output remained at 19 million b/d. OPEC's target price is $18 a

The experts from OPEC and non-OPEC oil producing countries met separately Wednesday and then jointly Thursday to discuss possible cooperation to help curb world oil supply and buoy

The non-OPEC countries which took part in the talks were Angola, China, Colombia, Egypt, Malaysia, Mexico and Oman, which together pump some eight million b/d.

Envoys from the Soviet Union the world's largest oil producer Norway, North Yemen, the and Canada's Alberta province also took part as observers.

"If we take this as just a step toward cooperation, it's not so bad," said Tashiro. "But if they are to reduce output in the second quarter they obviously need another meeting before the end of March.'

Pound Sterling

Meanwhile, Kuwaiti Oil Minister Ali Al Khalifa Al Sabah has denied an Iranian report that his country was exceeding its oil production quota set by OPEC.

Sheikh Ali told Al Rai Al Aam newspaper in remarks published Friday Kuwait was producing its full quota of 1.036 million barrels daily without any excess.

The Iranian news agency IRNA said Wednesday three major Gulf Arab OPEC members ---Kuwait, Saudi Arabia and the United Arab Emirates (UAE) were violating their quotas.

Saudi Arabia has already denied the report and UAE President Zaid Ibn Sultan Al Nahayan Thursday reiterated his country's commitment to the OPEC

Sheikh Ali said he expected world oil prices to remain at their current levels for the time being.

He said future price levels depended on whether all OPEC states stuck to their self-imposed output ceilings. Sheikh Ali said last week Kuwait was producing within its quota and would continue to do so as long as other OPEC mem-

AMMAN EXCHANGE RATES

Thursday, Jan. 26, 1989 Central Bank official rates

Japanese yen (for 100) 383.4 Dutch guilder 235.3 Swedish crown 77.9 Italian lira (for 100) 36.3 Belgian franc (for 10) 489.0 491.0 866.3 870.6 265.8 267.1

Jan. 21-25

Jan. 14-18

16

Amman Financial Market weekly trading

Following is a summary of trading during last week and the previous week:

Daily average	JD 2,032,186	JD 1,350,412
Total volume	JD 10,160,931	JD 6,752,059
Total shares	7,864,374	5,399.221
No. of contracts	6,044	4,287
Sect	oral trading:
Industrial	JD 7.473,738	JD 4,532,201
•	(73.6%)	(67.1%)
Financial	JD 2,086,199	JD 1,798,989
	(20.5%)	(26.6%)
Service	(4.9%)	(4.3%)
Insurance	(1.0%)	(0.2%)
Share price index	127.8	126.1
No. of companies	69	67
Price movement (rise)	51	37
(decline)	8	14

LONDON EXCHANGE RATES

(stable)

LONDON (R) — Following are the buying and selling rates for leading world currencies and gold against the dollar at midday on the London foreign exchange and bullion markets Friday.

One Sterling 1.7672/82 1.1843/53 U.S. dollar Canadian dollar One U.S. dollar 1.8508/18 Deutschemarks 2.0875/85 Dutch guilders 1.5723/30 Swiss francs 38.68/78 Belgian francs 6.2850/2900 French francs 1353/1354 Italian lire Japanese yen 128.50/60 6.2980/3030 Swedish crowns 6.6980/7010 Norwegian crowns 7.1800/50 Danish crowns One ounce of gold 402.00/402.50

WORLD STOCK MARKETS

SYDNEY — Weaker commodity prices and concern about interest rates took the steam out of the Australian share market. The All Ordinaries index closed up 1.2 at 1,542.3. TOKYO — Share prices rose to a record close, the third this week, in broad-based, active trade as sentiment was boosted by a third straight post-crash high on Wall Street. The Nikkei rose 134.32 to 31,646.13.

HONG KONG — Strong bullish sentiment pushed stocks to their seventh post-crash high of 1989. The Hang Seng index closed 46.38 higher at 2,956.95.

SINGAPORE — Another day of hectic trading saw share prices rising over a broad front but the market closed with pared gains. The Straits Times industrial index rose 6.77 to 1,115.48.

BOMBAY — Prices withstood sporadic profit-taking by institutional investors after the market opened firm, and closed with widespread gains. Tata Steel rose 33.5 rupees to 1.245.

FRANKFURT — Shares more than recovered Thursday's losses and closed around Friday's highs, helped by strong foreign interest in chemical, steel and engineering shares. The DAX index rose 13.88 to 1,343.58.

ZURICH — Shares closed easier in moderate trading as worries about Swiss interest rates dampened sentiment. The all-share Swiss index fell 1.1 to 972.1.

PARIS - Prices had extended early gains by midday in cautious trading, boosted by New York's strong performance and prospects of booming corporate results.

LONDON - Shares remained very firm ahead of 1530 GMT, when trading for the new account can take place a one per cent premium on deals. A firmer Wall Street opening helped the-market. At 1506 GMT the FTSE 100 was up 48.7 at 2,008.5. NEW YORK — Blue chips extended an early surge in mid-morning, buoyed by.. strength in the bond market and a rush of buying. The Dow was up 17 at 2,308.

Located in Amman. Please call tel: 824669 from 6 - 9 p.m.

SECRETARY, PUBLIC RELATION-REQUIRED

Must speak French, English, typing. For a travel tourist office. Flexible working hours (part time or full time)

Please contact 664916.

Lendl to face Mecir in final

MELBOURNE (R) — Ivan Lendl's hopes of winning his first Australian Open title almost suffered meltdown Friday before the number two seed struggled past Thomas Muster 6-2, 6-4, 5-7, 7-5 on a furnace-like centre court.

In an all-Czechoslovak final Lendi will play Miloslav Mecir who put on a brilliant display of tennis conjuring tricks to outfox Sweden's Jan Gunnarsson 7-5,

Minic rah ba har ba oil pro EC

Vi Aam blished

cing its barrek

ree ma-

ibers_

nd the

as.
adv de.
Press
ahayan
nuning OPEC

xpected.

at the

els de

OPEC

mposed

urcek

ithin in

136 136 136

. 1418

511 11

n.

44, 22

32.2

15.00

20.000

pri 25 s

1203

الأر جان 1324 OE

:15

, atom

Tarket

urd 100

red his

ci fin

to their

: Price . i gun

instru ed with

× 10500 roreis<sup>11</sup>

il-shir!

CAUDONS:

nd pice

 $_0$   $\mathcal{G}^{M^{I_{cl}}}$

per cent

 $\mathcal{S}_{\cdot}$ closed

12)

Lendl, a losing semifinalist at the last three opens, cruised to a two-set lead before wilting in courtside temperatures of over 40 degrees celsius.

The Austrian 11th seed, hitting every ball as if his life depended on it, took the third set as Lendl doused himself with iced water and hugged every inch of shade in an attempt to keep cool.

The form player of the tournament, Lendl looked to be playing at little more than half pace in the fourth set and he had to rely on an awful mistake by Muster to reach his second Open final.

At 5-5 the Austrian, leading 40-30, was presented with a simple smash at the net. With Lendi stranded on the wrong side of the court Muster slammed the ball into the net, releasing a howl of anguish as he realised his error. Lendl earned a breakpoint off the next point, won the game

BY CHARLES GOREN

Q.1—Both vulnerable, as South you

spades, passed back to you. Now you would have to guess at an un-comfortably high level. It's wiser to get in one suit by overcalling two

Q.2-Neither vulnerable, as South

±076 ♥A9873 ♦8 ±K762

A.—Since partner's jump rebid shows a hand worth some 18 points, a raise to four clubs, which might be passed, is a distinct underbid. Jump to five clubs to confirm that you have excellent trump support and a distributional hand. (If you play splinter bids, a jump to four diamonds to show a singleton-there

Q.3-As South, vulnerable, you

The bidding has proceeded:

What do you bid now?

♥K932 ♦AKJ6 ♠KQ6

West North East Pass 1 & Pass

North East South West

1'4 Pass 1 Pass
3 4 Pass 2 The bidding has proceeded:

What do you bid now?

would be perfect.)

♠A2

thanks to a Muster double-fault and then served out to love to win the match.

"It was possibly the hottest match I've ever played," Lendl said later. "I think we were both tired and in heat like that it is a question of who is the more experienced and can take advantage of the chances he has."

"I have blisters all over my feet, it was burning and you had the feeling you could jump into iced water," Muster said. "The air is just standing in the stadium, it feels like you are in a sauna. Recalling the mistake that may well haunt him for years, Muster said: "I just overhit it. I should have played a little angled ball but I forced it too much." Mecir, nicknamed the "Swede cater" for his sequence of victories against the likes of Mats Wilander and Stefan Edberg, was in inspired form for three-quarters of the match.

Unconventional as ever, he revealed delightful skills and inchperfect judgement to leave Gunnarsson cornered and confused.

and Jill Hetherington of Canada. Fendick and Hetherington, Trailing 5-2 in the first set and seeded sixth, beat second seeds Steffi Graf and Gabriela Sabatini in straight sets Friday. GOREN BRIDGE

Steffi Graf's superiority has. been so great at the Australian Open that her sixth Grand Slam title is being seen as a foregone conclusion even before she steps on court against Helena Sukova in Saturday's final.

frustrated by several bad line-

calls, Mecir's subsequent transformation amazed the Swede.

playing his first Grand Slam semi-

"I was playing the same tennis all the time," he said, "but after,

2-5 Mecir didn't make any mis-

"I was running all over the place but it's very difficult to read

his shots, he changes his mind

Wearing new shoes on a hot court did not help Gunnarsson's cause. "It was like running on chewing gum. It's maybe the hottest tennis match I've ever play-

said he was pleased with his form.

"I feel much more confident than before the tournament. Neither of us wanted to waste any energy

Lendl has beaten Mecir, the 1988 Olympic Gold medallist,

four times in their five meetings.

which includes the 1986 U.S.

They last met on clay in the semifinal of the 1987 French

Open when Lendl won in straight

Sunday will feature Martina Navratilova and Pam Shriver against fellow-American Patty Fendick

The women's doubles final running around out there."

Mecir, a notorious slow starter.

very late.'

ed," he said.

Open final.

Failure by the West German world number one on the first step to repeating her historic sporting upsets of the decade. Graf, the first player to win all four Grand Slam events in the same year since Margaret Court in 1970, collected an astonishing 11 titles last year when she was beaten only three times in 75 matches and she shows little sign of letting up in 1989.

NBA Roundup

NEW YORK (AP) — Kenny Smith had 24 points and 10 assists and Rookie Rick Berry scored 20 points Thursday night to lead the Sacramento Kings over the New Jersey Nets 112-109.

The Kings. who snapped a two-game losing streak, led by 12 points early in the fourth period, then held off a furious Nets' rally to win.

Buck Williams led the Nets vith 21 points and Dennis Topson had 18.

It was only the third win in 20 road games for Sacramento this season. The Nets have lost seven of their last 10 games.

Bullets 126, Pacers 106

Charles A. Jones scored six oints in the first three minutes of the fourth quarter and the Washington Bullets fought off a strong Indiana comeback to defeat the Pacers 126-106. It was the third straight victory for Washington and the fourth consecutive road loss for the Pacers, whose 1-19 road record matches Miami's as the worst in the NBA.

Nuggets 129, Heat 108

Alex English scored 34 points and Walter Davis came off the bench to add 17 to lead Denver to a 129-108 victory over Miami, ending the Nuggets' four-game losing streak. The loss dropped the expansion Miami franchise to 4-35 for the season.

Rockets 106, Clippers 100

Trailing by 16 points at the half, the Houston Rockets rallied behind Sleepy Floyd's 17 second-half points, including eight in the final two minutes of play, to defeat the Los Angeles Clippers 106-100.

Hornets 89, Jazz 88

Kurt Rambis grabbed a oose ball under the Charlotte basket and banked it in at the buzzer to give the Hornets an 89-88 victory over the Utah Jazz.

World Cup qualifying matches

Jordan holds Qatar to 1-1 draw

By John West Special to the Jordan Times

AMMAN — Jordan earned a 1-1 draw out of group leaders Oatar at the Sports City Friday in a tension-packed game which remained goalless until injury time in the second half. Khalid Awad's would-be winner was equalled almost as soon as play restarted by Qatari striker Mahmoud Al Sufi in a game that saw fortunes swing violently.

at the top of the group with six points, but Iraq close behind on five. Jordan with three points still stand a chance to qualify, but need to win both their remaining matches by convincing margins. Oman, with only two points, are now effectively out of the race. Jordan started aggressively, with a 33 metre shot from Jihad Abdul Mun'am testing Qatari goalkeeper in the first minute. They appeared to have learnt the lessons of the past three games, playing the ball out into spaces on the wings, and shooting on the run. Nart Yadaj played intel-ligently, and co-ordinated several attacks with through and crossfield passing.

The Qataris, however, gradually overcame their initial nerves and mounted several swift counterattacks, with the lanky Khamis brothers streaking down the pitch. The Jordanian attack had begun to lose its impetus when in the 24th minute Tawfik Al Sahib netted the ball off the rebound from a freekick. Indian referee. Sayyid Hakim ruled offside, however, much to the disappointment of the highly expressive 30,000 capacity crowd.

A dogged midfield struggle then set in, with both teams punching the ball backwards and forwards to each other. In the 45th minute, defender Usama Telli made a spectacular run for the whole length of the pitch,

Meanwhile, Iraq's 3-0 victory only to have his shot blocked by a defender coming from behind. defender coming from behind. The second half similarly dragged. Very few long balls were cleanly hit, most of them being sliced into the sky to set in train clusters of leaping players trying to trap and head them on their way down. It was the kind of confused play where players often ended up tackling when facing their own goal.

Oatari goalie Yunis Ahmad was booked in the 66th minute for wasting time, while his Jordanian counterpart Milad Abbasi earned his rehabilitation with a couple of tremendous saves, one from a cracking 35 metre curler by Salih 'Aid, and the other a a freekick decision caused a rumous among the players. All 22 were at one stage around the ball, and referee Hakim ordered the kick to be retaken when the line of Qatari defenders was too slow in moving back the required ten metres. As he was still getting them to retreat Khalid Awad stepped up to the ball and chipped it in to the bottom left hand corner of the net from 30 yards. Ahmad appeared to be unsighted well-judged run out to a tricky cross. After ninety minutes, the score was still 0-0.

In the fifth minute of extra time

The crowd's exuberance, which knew no bounds, was to be short lived. Two minutes after play resumed, in the twelfth minute of injury time and the 109th minute of this extraordinary game, Mahmoud Al-Sufi took advantage of the disordered Jordanian defence to sneak into the penalty area and knock in a simple chance. Qatar had equalised with less than two minutes to go and the Jordanian national team had tragically allowed their elation to get the better of them. In three and made no dive for it.

minutes of play they had won and lost again the chance of victory over the group leaders.

The electric atmosphere in the stadium was cut in an instant. Play restarted but neither side gained further advantage in the remaining two minutes. The hard-worked referee Hakim blew the final whistle and walked into the tunnel. The crowd stood dazed for a few minutes before streaming out of the stadium. dreaming on their way home of what might have been.

Iraq avenges defeat

BAGHDAD (AP) — Iraq downed Oman 3-0 (1-0) Friday in a qualifying match for the 1990 World Cup.

The result avenged a surprise · 1-1 first leg thraw in Muscat three weeks ago when a young Omani side played a top-class defensive game against the experienced

Ali Hussein opened the scoring in the 33rd to give the home side a 1-0 lead at halftime.

Natiq Hashim added Iraq's second goal in the 54th and Ahmed Radhi scored the third in the 82nd.

Iraq's win marked a successful debut for new national team manager Jamal Salah, who was promoted from managing the national youth squad. The former national team manager, Vtren Amu Baba, was fired Monday after Iraq went down 0-1 away to Qatar last week in another World Cup qualifier. A crowd of more than 60,000 packed the Al Sha'ab stadium for the match, the first soccer international to be played in Iraq since it went to war with neighbouring Iran in 1980. The International Football Federation banned internationals in both Iran and Iraq because players' safety could not be guaranteed. The ban was lifted after a cease-fire took effect last Aug. 20.

points and no significant support ♦83 ♥AKJ105 ○8 ⊕AKJ52 Grand Slam sweep of last year would rank as one of the biggest Q.4-As South, vulnerable, you

Your right-hand opponent opens the bidding with one spade. What action do you take? ♠K932 ♥A2 ♦AKJ6 ♠KQ8 A.-Although in terms of point count you are a bit heavy for a simple overcall, two-suited hands The bidding has proceeded: South West North East Pass 1 • Pass aren't handled well by a takeout double. For instance, suppose West then boosts the auction to four

ANSWERS TO WEEKLY BRIDGE QUIZ

What do you bid now? A.—A jump raise to three spades in this sequence is invitational, not forcing. Since you want to be in game even if partner has a dead minimum 6 points, there is a simple way to to show your powerful hand in support—jump to four spades!

shows a balanced hand of 19-20

Q.5—Both vulnerable, as South you

◆AJ ♥954 0762 ◆K0763 Partner opens the bidding with one spade. What do you respond? A .- With only 10 points and no fit. you do not have quite enough to respond at the two-level. Therefore, the only bid you can make is one no

Q.6-Both vulnerable, as South you ♥954 ♦762 ±KQ763 ΦAJ

The bidding has proceeded: North East South W 1 NT Pass Pass What action do you take?

A.—In this sequence partner must have at least a six-card spade suit, especially since you can tell that his suit can't be top quality. Therefore, you have excellent support and, be-cause you have a maximum for your A.—There is a textbook bid available—a jump to two no trump. That to three spades.

By Harris

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, JANUARY 28, 1989

YOUR HOROSCOPE

- As Charted By The Carroll Righter Astrological Foundation

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Everyone seems to have a hidden problem. It is tempting to act or tionships can be temporarily rocky. Emotional pushy ways may not lead to a favorable conclusion. ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) The gift of love is on your doorstep. It may be hard to get into planned ac-tivities. Later the tempo will pick up to your normal pace. TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Possessive tendencies can cause discord. Trust in yourself Love and

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)
Positive influences from the moon's position can have a wonderful effect on family life. Stay alert for an impersonal involvement compel action

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) Imagination and psychic in-tuition will be available. Emotional matters can affect the way you use

Prospects are brightened for friend-ship and love. This is an inspira-tional day that will bring pleasure what you do. VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) An

Bart or Belle

53 "The — Around Us" 54 Breathe

heavily 57 Hen home 59 "— of Two Cities"

64 Ululates 68 Freezer

69 Heb. measure

70 Punta del

DOWN

71 Aslan

your spiritual life. LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21)

early, fast-paced mood may not be shared by others. Use patience until everyone gets in step. LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct many things to do and not enough time to do them. Organization is a splendid remedy. Center some time around young people.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)

Solitude may be sought but not found. Unexpected activities may have you going at a fast pace. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Social events can have you worn down. Get some needed rest and relaxation. Catch up on personal projects that have been set aside. CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) A stagnant social life needs energy. Plan for a day to do your favorite things. I guore someone that is in a touchy mood.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Your numerous communicative talents can be utilized today. You are sensitive to those around you in need and can be helpful to them. PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) The morning is stable and quiet. Romance is fired up later in the day. Take advantage of friendly con-

Foreman ready to outlast opponents

HEY, STUPID CAT! HOW

DO YOU LIKE MY NEW

WASTEBASKET?

ROCHESTER, New York (AP) were "desperation blows" by - Former heavyweight champion George Foreman says that none of his opponents seem to believe him when he says he's in great shape.

"They all want to try to move around and make the fight last," Foreman said Thursday night af-ter stopping "starvin" Mark with another combination and Young at 1:47 of the seventh round. "They shouldn't wait around. He (Young) didn't do nothing but absorb unnecessary

It was the 15th straight knock-out for the 40-year-old Foreman since beginning a comeback after a 10-year layoff. He didn't appear tired in the ring, standing up between rounds and opening the seventh round with some shuffle steps.

"I don't even get warmed up until 10 rounds," said Foreman. who had two bruises around his left eye caused by what he said

Young. Foreman, who improved his

A disconsolate Yunis Ahmad surveys the damage after Khalid

Awad sneaked a late goal from a freekick. Qatar, however, were to sneak a later goal which dashed Jordan's momentary hopes of

PLEASE FEEL FREE TO

SOMETHING TO THROW AWAY.

USE IT IF YOU HAVE

lifetime record to 60-2 with 57 knockouts, floored Young, a Mîami fighter, with a left and right to the head. After Young took the mandatory standing Young's corner stopped the fight.

"All of a sudden a good shot came from nowhere," said Young, who was a one-round knockout victim of current heavyweight champion Mike

Tyson four years ago. He said he really couldn't compare the two fighters and didn't know who would win if they fought.

Young conceded that he made a. mistake and turned the wrong way before Foreman landed the big right hand that knocked him to the canvas in the seventh round.

SPORTS IN BRIEF

A yachtsman's nightmare...

SYDNEY (R) - America's cup winner Dennis Conner said Friday he had nightmares about dropping a spinnaker in Sydney harbour during the 12-metre special challenge yachting series against Australian Iain Murray. Ten to 15 knot winds are forecast for Saturday and Conner warned: "If it blows hard people could get seriously injured. "We might have problems dropping spinnakers and then where do we go? That is my nightmare." The San Diego skipper was talking at a news conference on the eve of the second day's racing in the 1987 America's cup rematch. Conner and Murray, who have a win each with six races to go, will try to sail three races Saturday.

Biasion leads Monte Carlo

MONTE CARLO (R) — Massimo Biasion, driving without risks to preserve his big lead, led a Lancia sweep of the firt three places Wednesday before the final testing night of the Monte Carlo rally. The Italian world champion, winner of the first of the day's five special timed stages, increased his lead to almost five minutes over young French challenger Didier Auriol, who lost two minutes with a wheel problem. Biasion seemed set for a second success in the rallying classic unless he suffered a major mishap success in the rallying classic unless he suffered a major mishap during the overnight leg over the cols of Turini, Couillole and Luceram. But he remained cautious about the outcome, saying: "In the Monte Carlo, nothing is decided until the finish line."

Peanuts

tacks that will grown in the future.

*We needed jumper cables to get started this morning. Not for the car — for Stanley."

Answer: What those society "crumbs" were held together by—"DOUGH"

designer Meadow

32 Drill 33 Slaves of old

34 Expensive 35 Slamese

Mutt'n' Jeff WHAT DO WHY DON'T YOU HAVE A LIGHT?

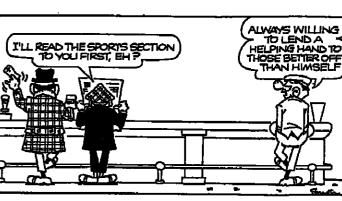

I SHOULDN'T

HAVE SUGGESTED

IT.,

Andy Capp

Actor wins suit for

Fawlty' comparison

LONDON (AP) — Comedy

actor John Cleese won libel damages Wednesday from a newspaper which claimed he had increasingly come to resemble Basil

Fawlty, the manic hotel owner he played in the hit television series

'Fawlty Towers." His lawyer,

Roderick Dadak, told the high court that Cleese did not tweak

people's ears or routinely fly into manic or irrational rages and "the claim that in real life he resembles Basil Fawlty is absurd."

Cleese, 49, accepted undisclosed "substantial" damages, to be donated to a charity of his choice.

from publisher Robert Maxwell's Mirror group newspapers, the court said. The newspaper group also agreed to pay Cleese's

legal costs and publish an apology, it said. The Daily Mirror reported in August 1987 that Cleese, a founding member of the

'Monty Python" troupe, had got into the habit of painfully tweak-

China-bound Bush cautious on Soviets, Mideast

WASHINGTON (AP) — President George Bush's trip to China next month underscores the importance of U.S. relations with the world's largest country, and although the two have no overriding problems, Bush has some serious issues to discuss with the Chinese.

One is the joint effort the United States and China are making to promote reconciliation between South Korea and North Korea. Another is the growing improvement in relations between China and the Soviet Union.

Bush's trip will be the first visit to Peking by a U.S. chief executive in nearly five years. Former President Ronald Reagan visited the Chinese capital in April 1984.

But while Bush looks to the Far East, stopping also in Japan for Emperor Hirohito's pressing have been consigned at least for now to the back

Bush and his top foreign policy advisers, Secretary of State James A. Baker III and Brent Scowcroft, the National Security Adviser, are taking their time about the Soviet Union and the Middle East.

Baker, who is inexperienced in both areas, told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee during his confirmation hearing that he wanted to "review the bidding" in U.S.-Soviet negotiations to reduce longrange nuclear weapons.

Baker also said the United States should avoid "a headlong rush" to provide Moscow with loans and credits, which are traditionally a useful tool in time is right."

It's a bit early to make but he too is taking a very cautious approach in deadling with Moscow. He worrles that sweeping judgments, but the indications are a slowdown in the Soviet President Mikhail S. reconciliation promoted by Reagan and former Secretary of State George P. Shuitz after Gorbachey's peace offensive may have as one of its main goals "making trouble within the alliance" of Western na-Gorbachev's rise to power in the Kremlin in March 1985. tions. He is suspicious that There is a similar go-slow Gorbachev's motivation is to attitude developing toward the Arab-Israeli conflict in the buy time to reform the Soviet economy — which is a lot

While Bush has not insisted on concessions from Moscow

before ascending the summit

with Gorbachev, the White

power relationship.

Middle East, which drew sedifferent from approaching Gorbachev primarily as a rious attention from the world leader trying to ease Reagan administration toward East-West tensions. the end but hardly the concen-"I think the cold war is not tration trained on Moscow. Reagan and Shultz, in their over." Scowcrost said in a recent assessment of the super-final days, broke a 13-year embargo and opened U.S. talks with the Palestine Liberation Organisation. Shultz made five trips to the Middle East in 1988, and while neither the Arabs nor Israelis agreed to negotiations, Shultz left office optimistic about the future.

improving relations. Scowcroft has more experi-House spokesman, Marlin Fitzwater, said Thursday they would meet only "when the funeral, two other regions ence in foreign policy matters, UNESCO hopeful U.S., U.K. will rejoin after policy change

MANILA (R) — The director-general of UNESCO, the U.N. Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organisation said Friday he was optimistic the United States and Britain would soon announce plans to rejoin the body they quit in protest four Federico Mayor Zaragoza said he had made drastic changes in UNESCO's goals and organisation in the past year, eradicating problems that prompted Zaragoza's Senegalese predeces-Washington and London to sor, Amadou Mahtar m'Bow.

"It is already clear that UN-ESCO is (back) on its tracks," he told Reuters in an interview during an official visit in Manila.

The United States and Britain quit the 158-nation agency after complaining it was financially mismanaged, too politicised and had an anti-Western bias while under the direction of Mayor

Mayor Zaragoza, a Spaniard, said one big change had been his removal last year of four UN-ESCO regional heads based in appointees. The head of UNESCO said since replacing m'Bow in November. 1987, he had saved $22 mil-

Federico Mayor Zaragoza

Hun Sen ends peace mission to Thailand

to his country.
"We are building a cement bridge between the two countries instead of the bamboo bridge we have used for the past 10 years,' he told reporters as he visited the Grand Palace, Bangkok's top tourist attraction.

after a three-day stay that included talks on a political settlement and on future economic and trade links. One Western diplomat here called it a "a major propaganda victory. For a decade Thailand has sup-

He was due to fly home later

ported Khmer Rouge and other guerrilla groups fighting from the Thai-Kampuchean border to overthrow Hun Sen's communist government, installed after the 8 Vietnamese invas

But a break in the international stalemate over Kampuchea which

LONDON (AP) — The govern-ment insisted that a television

documentary on three unarmed

Irish Republican Army (IRA)

guerrillas slain in Gibraltar last

vear was untruthful despite an independent inquiry that cleared

the proogramme of unfairness allegations.

The continuing clash over the programme, "Death On The Rock," is the latest in a series of confrontations between Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher's

Conservative administration and

The programme by Thames

television, part of Britain's commercial independent television

network, was shown seven weeks

after a British anti-terrorist squad

küled the IRA trio March 6,

1988. The government sought to suppress the documentary at the

A joint statement from Thatch-er's office, the foreign office and the Ministry of Defence said

Thursday night: "The programme contained many serious and television journalists.

Vietnam and China and between Vietnam and Thailand, opened

Diplomats here said its results could be devastating for the opposition coalition, which includes the Chinese-backed Khmer Rouge and exiled leader Prince Norodom-Sihanouk, even though the coalition still has the United Nations recognition denied Hun Sen's government.

Things are moving very fast," said Hun Sen's Deputy Foreign Minister Sok An. "This is the beginning and it is a good implementation of the ideas of (Thai prime minister) Chatichai (Choonhavan) about turning the Îndochina battlefield înto a market place. The process is Chatichai, who took office last August, has sought to break down the formal barriers that prevented movement towards a spokesman Likhit Hongladarom also on future economic relabrought direct talks between told reporters: "You cannot think tions.

sent evidence impartially.

The statement said government

criticisms were "in no way diminished" by the findings of an independent inquiry, published earlier Thursday. The inquiry cooncluded the documentary fully satisfied "the requirements of balance, fairness and impar-

At an inquest in Gibraltar, a jury ruled by a 9-2 majority Sept.

30 that the three IRA members

— Mairead Farrell, 31, Daniel

McCann, 30, and Sean Savage, 24

were killed legally by British

"Death On The Rock" provoked an uproar when it was shown by suggesting that two of the three IRA guerrillas were trying to surrender when they were killed. The government said the three were slain because they made suspicious moves that made the soldiers think they were about

The slayings were condemned

London rejects inquiry

clearing film on IRA

nality.

Hun Sen

programme failed to pursue the IRA supporters in Belfast in truth, to clarify the facts or prein static terms any more. What has been done 10 years ago cannot hold true if circumstances have changed,'

He added: "The message our prime minister put across is that the real enemy of Kampuchea is poverty. Although describing the two rounds of Hun Sen-Chatichai talks were as informal. Thai offisaid they touched no Thailand's deputy government on ways to settle the conflict but which nine people, including two

IRA is fighting to end British rule

in predominantly Protestant

with the Republic of Ireland.

where 95 per cent of the people are Catholic.

Thatcher's government contended the three slain IRA members planned to bomb British troops in Gibraltar and the IRA acknowledged the three were "on active service" in the colony on

Thatcher condemned the programme at the times as "trial by television." But the independent broadcasting authority in charge of commercial television rejected

a government demand that the documentary's broadcast be post-

Amnesty International has de-

killing and civil libertarians claim

the attack on the film is part of a poned until after the inquest.

the southern tip of Spain.

The mainly Roman Catholic

British soldiers, died.

Argentine rebel led Somoza assassination

said Sunday.

(AP) — The leader of this week's assault on an army base tried to overthrow the government in the 1970s and helped assassinate deposed Nicaraguan dictator Anastasio Somoza, informed sources

Secret Polish talks

under way on deal

WARSAW (R) — Solidarity leader Lech Walesa met

Poland's interior minister Friday for secret negotiations to set up formal talks with the government on legalising the banned union and making a deal on the proposals.

country's future.

The meeting aimed to make final preparations for full-scale

talks which the government

hopes will forge a national coalition with the opposition to pull

Poland out of economic crisis.

darity team swept into a govern-ment villa in the village of Mag-

dalenka about 20 kilometres

south of Warsaw shortly after Interior Minister General Czes-law Kiszczak entered. Neither

Two Roman Catholic Church

officials also went into the talks.

Kiszczak's team was believed to include Politburo members Sta-

nislaw Ciosek and Janusz

Reykowski and representatives of Walesa and Kiszczak were meeting for the sixth time since last August to discuss convening talks, which are expected to start

Final obstacles to the talks

appeared to be removed last wek

when the ruling Communist Party

the official OPZZ unions.

Feb. 5 or 6.

side commented to reporters.

Walesa and a seven-man Soli-

to legalise Solidarity

said the timing and terms of legalising the union it suppressed

Preparations for the talks have speeded up since Sunday, when Solidarity accepted the party's with other Solidarity leaders and advisers Thursday after arriving from the northern port of Gdansk

where strikes gave rise to the Setting out Friday morning to meet Kiszczak, Walesa declined to give any details of what they would discuss, saying only: "Poles like to talk to each other."

Solidarity sources said the day's talks were likely to be long and hard but gave no details. A government spokesman declined

The government invited Wale-

sa to talks with independent pub-

communist world's first independent trade union in 1980.

Walesa held secret discussions

in 1981 could be discussed.

Enrique Gorriaran Merlo directed the attack Monday on the 3rd infantry regiment base in the western suburb of La Tablada that resulted in the death of 38 people, government and security sources said Thursday.

Gorriaran Merlo, 47, once led the now-defunct People's Revolutionary Army, which openly battled the military after it took power in a 1976 coup. He is believed to have escaped during a 27-hour siege in which army and police forces retook the base, the sources said on condition of anonymity.

Among the dead were eight oldiers and two policemen. One of the policemen died Thursday of wounds suffered in the assault. About 70 others were wounded.

But Gorriaran Merlo was not thought to be among the bodies of 14 armed civilians who remain unidentified, the sources said. The disclosure came as authorities probed links between the attackers and left-wing organisa-

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina houses in Mar Del Plata, 402 kilometres south of Buenos Aires, and arrested three people

Solidarity's 16-month legal exist-ence which challenged commun-

Walesa helped curb strikes but

The union finally agreed to the refused to attend the talks unless the authorities promised to con-

meeting after the party's policy-making central committee last week offered terms for legalising

Solidarity as part of increased political and trade union free-

Party sources said the offer,

which included lifting a 1982 ban

on forming new unions, was prompted by fears of labour unrest over soaring inflation and the need to win over a distrustful

euphoria, saying it remains to be seen if quick restoration of Solidarity as a self-governing, independent union is a real possi-

Walesa has cautioned against public to economic reforms.

sider relegalising Solidarity.

but gave no other details.

Gorriaran Merlo, a stocky former architecture student, was involved in the People's Revolutionary Army, which was decimated in the late 1970s during a harsh anti-subversion campaign waged by the military leaders. Gorriaran Merlo, however, escaped and went to Nicaragua. In published interviews, he said he led a team of Argentine and Nicaraguan guerrillas who assassinated Somoza in 1980 on a street in the Paraguayan capital of Asuncion. Somoza had been ousted by Nicaragua's leftist Sandinistas in 1979.

President Raul Alfonsin ordered the prosecution of Gorriaran Merlo shortly after taking office in December 1983.

Gorriaran Merlo was believed to be living abroad. Last year, a leftist human rights lawyer, Jorge Banos, asked the courts to allow Gorriaran Merlo to return and face trial without being impris-

Police said among those killed in this week's assault was Banos. He and at least two other attackers whose names have been released by police were active in a leftist political group, the Every-

ing the ears of fellow cast members and flying into a rage when "Íf it turns out to be an illusion, they objected during the filming of "A Fish Called Wanda." then we will still have to fight for the most important issues." he The offer has also angered some members of the OPPZ un-Duke pays tribute to queen ions set up to replace Solidarity. lic figures and Roman Catholic They say the party's offer has LONDON (AP) — Britain's Church officials last August dur- angered some workers and could ing the worst labour unrest since prompt more unrest.

Queen Elizabeth II once had a musical tribute composed just for her by Duke Ellington, but 31 years passed before it got its first live public performance. The queen's daughter, Anne, was guest of honour at a royal festival hall benefit concert to hear the 15p-minute work, "The Queen's Suite," performed by U.S. musician Bob Wilber and his band. "Duke was so overwhelmed at meeting with the queen in 1958 that he composed this longer orchestral work for her, recorded it with his band and instructed that only a single disc should be pressed, for the queen herself," Wilber said in a preconcert interview. Because no sheet music existed. Wilber transcribed it by listening to the music, which Ellington's son, Mercer, allowed to be issued on a disc for public sale in 1976.

Troupe performs wordless 'Othello'

CHICAGO (AP) - Hamlet directed his players to speak "trippingly on the tongue" but the latest players to tackle another of Shakespeare's tragic heroes, Othello, don't speak at all. "Silent Othello," the latest production of the four-year-old Îtalian American theatre, telis the tale of the Moor of Venice without the Bard's poetry, and also without sets or secondary characters. The five actors on the bare nightclub stage rely instead on mime, dance motions and traditional Italian gestures most of them impolite. "We don't pretend it's Shakespeare, but you could consider it a mirror to Shakespeare," director Frank Melcori recently said after the first of six weekly performances. 'We don't have the verbal techniques to do spoken Shakespeare, but we have other techniques we can use to tell a story," he said. "Othello is the cleanest, dramatically, of Shakespeare's tragedies. It's a fairly simple story of jealousy and revenge."

Woman loses job, then wins fortune

LONDON (AP) - A woman who lost her job Monday, and whose husband was facing unemployment, has become a millionaire two days later by winning big in the soccer pools. Sheila Marshall of Normanton in central England, was due to get a check Wednesday for £634,000 ($1,122,180) from the Littlewoods Organisation. On Mon-day. Marshall had been told that the company where she had worked for nine years was closing. Her husband Alan also was facing unemployment because of ... the imminent closing of the coalmine where he works. The 49year-old woman said she used the family's star signs — Gemini. Virgo and Pisces - to help pickthe lucky numbers.

Turkish woman wins Soviet contest

MOSCOW (AP) - Meltem Hakarar of Turkey last week won the first international beauty contest held in Moscow, taking the "Charm 89" title over 28 other contestants from 11 countries.
The contest, held at Moscow's Kosmos Hotel, was organised by the Soviet state-run travel agency Intourist, the hotel, a Soviet cultural centre and several other organisations. It drew contestants from Singapore, Greece, West Germany, Norway, as well as several from different several from different parts of the Soviet Union.

damaging inaccuracies. In a numby the Irish government and trigbroader government assault on ber of important particulars, the gered renewed violence among news media freedom. Japan 'regrets' Tower's call for increased defence spending to detonate a bomb.

TOKYO (AP) - Japan's defence statements made Wednesday by the United States. chief expressed regret Friday over U.S. Defence Secretary-designate John Tower's call for more pressure on Japan to increase its military spending.

"U.S.-Japan defence arrangements have been a pillar of been making efforts toward our defence under this framework, and such a policy has been widely trusted by the people," Defence Agency Director General Kichiro Tazawa told reporters after a regularly scheduled cabinet

"As for Mr. Tower's comment that Japan can greatly increase its defence efforts under the constitution, I have the feeling Mr. Tower does not understand the Japanese people's feelings and perspective," Tazawa said.

Tower, who is undergoing confirmation hearings before the U.S. Senate Armed Services Committee.

Tower said the decision to impose on Japan a constitution that severely restrained them from Japan's security and we have building a substantial military force" during the U.S. occupation of Japan at the end of World War II was "a lousy idea."

"But I don't believe that constitution is so restraining that they couldn't devote a substantially larger percentage (of spending) to their defence," Tower said.

The Japanese constitution, adopted in 1946 during the U.S. occupation, renounces war and forbids the use of force in settling international disputes. But Japan has been steadily building up its armed forces in recent years in Tazawa was responding to response to heavy pressure from Acting U.S. Defence Secretary William Taft Thursday hailed Japan's increased allotment for defence in its budget for the next fiscal year.

"I commend the government of Japan for continuing to do what is necessary to meet Japan's defence goals and to positively support U.S. forces in Japan," he was quoted by Kyodo News Service as saying. "Given the con-tinuing threat posed by Soviet forces in the Pacific, growth in Japan's defence and cost-sharing efforts is fully justified."

Japan's cabinet this week approved a budget for fiscal 1989 that includes 3.92 trillion yen ($30.5 billion) for defence spending, a 5.9 per cent increase over the previous year. The budget still must be passed by parlia-

The officers' club, where a group of rebel commandos took refuge, burned at the La Tablada military base outside Buenos Aires, after Argentine soldiers attacked the building with tank and mortar fire

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF BANGKOK (R) - Kampuchean Prime Minister Hun Sen Friday Bangladesh poli clashes kill 1 the way for Hun Sen's trip. completed a visit to Thailand that turned into a propaganda coup in the ongoing efforts to bring peace DHAKA (R) — One man was killed and over 100 people injured

Thursday in clashes brought on by municipal election rivalries, police said. They said supporters of local candidates fought with home-made bombs, guns, spears and knives in many areas before the campaigning was officially ended Thursday midnight. The government earlier ordered police to crack down on unauthorised possession and use of explosives, firearms and other lethal weapons to ensure peaceful voting Saturday. At least 150 people were killed and hundreds injured in fierce clashes during rural elections in February, 1988, according to official figures.

Dutch free Nazi criminals

THE HAGUE (R) - The Dutch parliament voted Friday to reléase two Nazi war criminals imprisoned since World War II. The vote was 85 to 55 in favour of a pardon for Franz Fischer, 87 and Ferdinand aus der Fuenten, 79, who were convicted for sending thousands of Jews to their death during the Nazi occupation of the Netherlands. Once released from their 43-yearlong imprisonment the two would be expelled to West Germany d would be "personae non grata" in the Netherlands, Justice Minister Frederik Korthals Altes said. Usually, parliamentarians voted on an individual basis, showing deep divisions in all major political parties on an issue which has stirred an emotional public debate here. In the debate, Korthals Altes said the two war criminals should be freed because their further detention went against humane legal tradition and poisoned Dutch society.

Chun aide charged with abuse

SEOUL (R) — One of former South Korean strongman Chun Doo Hwan's most feared aides was charged Friday with extorting millions of dollars in political funds from industrialists, government prosectors said. Chang Se-Dong, Chun's security chief and once rumoured to be his chosen successor, is accused of collecting the money to pay for a political institute Chun planned to use as a power base after he retired. Chang, who denies the charge, was taken to a prison outside Seoul. He was not handcuffed as South Korean prisoners usually are. He is the latest of dozens of people, including Chun relatives and former government officials, now in jail or facing trial over political and financial scandals involving millions of dollars during the disgraced leaders rule. Chun himself is under investigation by the opposition-dominated parliament over his role in a 1980 massacre in Kwangju. Troops killed nearly 200 civilians when they crushed an uprising Chun in the southwestern city.

Honduran chief killed

TEGUCIGALPA. Honduras (AP) — A former armed forces chief who helped the Reagan administration organise the Nicaraguan rebel forces in Hondurus was ambushed and killed Wednesday, officials and witnesses said. Salvador Lobo, director of emergencies at the state hospital school, told reporters General Gustavo Alvarez Martinez died of gunshot wounds near his home in the capital's Florencia district. Witnesses said six gunmen waited for Alvarez Martinez outside his home and poured machine-gin fire into his car. The driver was also killed and Alvarez Martinez's son-in-law was wounded, police said. One witness, Alba Luz Guzman, told the AP the men "intercepted me, forced me to get out of my car, then fled in my automobile."

Cuba mortality rate ranks 22nd

HAVANA (R) - Cuba's infant mortality rate has dropped to 11.9 per 1,000 live births, ranking 22nd in the world and at the level of some industrialised countries, the official newspaper Granma said Wednesday. Calling infant mortality a "barometer of social welfare," the daily said the rate was over 60 per 1,000 before the 1959 revolution, similar to the rates today in Brazil, El Salvador and Guatemala. Health care and education have been priorities of the Cuban socialist revolution. A rate of 11.9 per 1,000, compared with 13.3 in 1987, put Cuba first in Latin America and just behind the United States, with 10 per 1,000 live births, and Italy and New Zealand with 11. Cuba was ahead of Greece, with 12 deaths per 1,000 live births, and Israel with 14, according to United Nations figures.

100 criminals executed in China city

HONG KONG (AP) - Nearly 100 people were executed during the first 20 days of the year in China's southern province of Guangdong, where an alarming crime wave shows no sign of abating, a newspaper quoted Chinese officials Friday as saying. The death sentences given by local courts during the 20-day period was double the number during the same period last year, the independent Ming Pao daily quoted Mai Chongkai, the acting president of the provincial People's High Court, as saying.